Enters Partnership

"The winters were bad in those days," Mr. Sherman told a Gettysburg Times reporter, "and I had to get out my sleigh. In the winter of 1905 I made 67 successive trips in the cutter, sometimes having to get out and walk behind it, but I always got the mail through."

In 1908 he went into parntership with his father and the grocery at Two Taverns became known as the "J. T. Sherman and Son" store. After learning the grocery business the Shermans moved to Gettysburg and opened a store at the corner of Hanover and Liberty Streets, formerly owned by Moxam

Russia Seeks To Avoid Being Bound By Korean Peace Rules

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

PANMUNJOM (AP) — U.S. envoy Arthur Dean said today "some method must be worked out" to assure the attendance of Soviet Russia as a full participant at a Korean peace conference.

The Reds want Russia to attend as a neutral. Dean charged this would mean the Soviet Union would not be bound by conference decisions.

He said Chinese and North Korean negotiators working on plans for the peace conference are holding Russia "as a threat over our heads."

Allied and Communist diplomats met for 3 hours and 45 minutes, the longest continuous session since the preliminary talks opened Oct. 26. They will meet again Friday.

Meanwhile, explanations to war prisoners who have refused to go home remained stalled and there was no indication that the interviews would be renewed.

Dean read two long statements at the preliminary peace talks ridiculing the Communist position that Russia is a neutral.

"Why are you afraid to have the U. S. S. R. at the political conference as a full participant?" he asked.

"Is the real reason . . . because: (A) the U. S. S. R. does not wish to be bound by the agreement reached at the political conference and (B) you wish to use as a threat at the conference the possible nonaggression of the U. S. S. R. or its noncompliance with the agreements reached?"

The Chinese delegate, Huang Hua, replied with what Dean called "a bitter denunciation."

"It was unadulterated hogwash," Dean said, "accusing us of bad treatment of prisoners and atrocities in prisoner of war camps. I told them we'd make progress if we cut out these stump speeches."

The Communists for the ninth straight day made no effort to interview the more than 20,000 Chinese and Korean war prisoners who have refused to return to Red rule.

Observers said the Reds apparently have given up all explanations, at least for the time being.

The U.N. Command, meanwhile, continued work on ground rules before announcing when it will start trying to woo home 22 Americans, 1 Briton and 328 South Koreans who have refused repatriation.

SPEEDWAY MEN FINED $800; NO MORE RACES ON SUNDAY LIKELY

Four operators of the Lincoln Speedway, a stock car race track near Abbottstown, Tuesday afternoon were given suspended sentences by the Adams County Court on a charge of maintaining a public nuisance by operating the speedway on Sundays and were given suspended sentences and fined $800 on charges of conspiring to violate the law by operating on Sundays.

The defendants are Hugh W. Sharrard, 504 S. Prince St., Lancaster; Hillen V. Rife, New Oxford R. 2; John J. Smith, Hanover, and Earl J. Haverstick, Abbottstown.

On the public nuisance charge, sentence was suspended for one year on condition that the defenants do not operate the track on Sundays during that period. They were also directed to pay the costs.

May Operate Weekdays

On the conspiracy charge, jail sentence was suspended for two years on condition they do not operate on Sundays "unless the state law changes during that period." Each of the four was also ordered to pay $200 for the use of Adams County and pay the costs.

The maximum sentence that can be given on the conspiracy charge is a fine of $500 and two years in prison. The court indicated by its sentence that if the track is operated on Sundays the men will be brought back for sentence on the present charges.

Weekday operation of the track was not affected by the sentences.

Legal Maneuvers

Considerable legal maneuvering preceded the actual imposition of the sentences.

MINIMUM FINE FOR MRS. BROWN ON PLCB CASE

Mrs. Lucille Brown, 215 W. High St., was given the minimum fine of $100 on a charge of violating the Pennsylvania Liquor Control laws after being found guilty Tuesday afternoon by a jury of having in her possession illegal and untaxed liquor.

Mrs. Brown had originally pleaded guilty to the charges, then Saturday, in sentence court, withdrew her plea. The court permitted the withdrawal only on condition that the trial be held this week.

Mrs. Brown told the court that a bottle of wine found in her house during a raid was brought there by her father. She said she knew nothingof a gallon of moonshine found under her bed until later when she learned Earl Breckenridge put it there. Other witnesses said they had heard Breckenridge admit to the deed. Breckenridge, on the stand Tuesday afternoon, denied that he had put the moonshine under the bed.

Innocent On One Count

The jury hearing the case was told that as soon as Mrs. Brown admitted that the bottle of wine not bought from the Pennsylvania State Store, nor on which Pennsylvania state tax had been paid, was in her home, she was guilty of both counts of the indictment. The court said it did not stop the case there and direct a verdict because of the matter of the moonshine whiskey, because if Mrs. Brown did not know it was in her house she was not guilty of possession. Possession, the court said, involves knowledge of the existence of something and the exercising of some control over it. On the other hand, the court said, if she did know of the existence of the moonshine then the testimony involved other elements of a more serious nature concerning perjury.

The jury was asked to make two findings, one concerning the bottle of wine, the other involving the moonshine whiskey. She was found guilty of both counts on the wine,

KIRKLAND SAYS "BOOKS ARE HERE TO STAY," ELECT SIX DIRECTORS

"Books seem to be here to stay in spite of television, radio, movies, automobiles and other modern claims upon leisure time," Louis B. Kirkland, director of industrial and public relations for Doubleday and Company, Inc., Hanover, told members of the Adams County Free Library Association at their annual meeting at the main library Tuesday evening.

Mr. Kirkland said experience has shown that television has brought an increase in library circulation just as other modern inventions that widened people's interests and helped to raise the education level.

During the business session annual reports were submitted and six countians were elected to the library's board of directors.

Six Directors Named

L. S. Long, Gettysburg R. D., and Miss Ann Faber, of Gettysburg, were re-elected for three-year terms. Mrs. Q. W. Hershey, York Springs; the Rev. Nevin Frantz, Arendtsville; John R. Wisler, East Berlin, and Paul E. Renner, of Littlestown, are the new members of the board.

Mr. Renner will serve out the unexpired term of Marvin Breighner of Littlestown. The Rev. Mr. Frantz returns to the board over which he presided as president during a previous term.

The election was by acclamation after the report of the nominating committee was presented by Dean Asquith of Biglerville.

"Just Like Other People"

In his address, Mr. Kirkland reported an unswing in the demand for books on religion. He told of contacts he has had with famous authors and said he has concluded authors "are just like other people, not snobbish, but maybe on the retiring side."

He described the major steps in the publication of a book from the submission of a manuscript by an author, through the editing, titling, printing, promotion and sales stages. He said his company receives about 5,000 manuscripts a year, about 3,000 of them "walk-ins" or unsolicited efforts. The others come from the "stable of authors."

Discussing books as competitors with TV and other interests in the modern world, he pointed out: "Books always have been presented in three dimensions and the printed word is their fourth dimension. Within their pages, there is no place you have to stop for a commercial."

Truman Administration Was "Crawling With Communists" Sen. McCarthy Charges On Air

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy says the Truman administration was "crawling with Communists."

In his formal rebuttal to former President Harry S. Truman, McCarthy charges that Truman—while a U. S. senator and vice presidential candidate—intervened against the dismissal from government service of George Shaw Wheeler, who later deserted to Communism.

McCarthy says that after Truman became president, Wheeler was reinstated, although he had been dismissed as a Communist.

Defines "Trumanism"

The senator gives this description on what he calls "Trumanism":

"The placing of your political party above the interest of the country, regardless of how much the country is damaged thereby."

Praising the Eisenhower administration's efforts to rid the government service of subversives, he added however:

"Let us glance at a few cases where our (Republicans) batting average is zero—where we struck out."

Cites Dan's Case

As an example he cites John Patton Davies, who he says helped deliver China into Communist hands.

The Wisconsin Republican senator addressed a nationwide television and radio audience last night in answer to Truman, who had assailed "McCarthyism" in a TV-radio speech a week ago Monday night in connection with the Harry Dexter White controversy.

Truman was reported asleep in bed at his Independence, Mo., home last night an hour before McCarthy went on the air.

Concerned About GOP

Nor was there any immediate comment from President Eisenhower.

$518,913 Being Distributed By 14 County Banks To Christmas Club Members; New Records Set

More than half million dollars in cash for Christmas "shopping is being poured into the hands of 6,441 Adams Countians by the county's 14 banking institutions.

The Christmas Club checks, all of which will be in the mail by December 1 and some of which already have been mailed, set a new all-time record in this county.

The grand total is $518,913.45 and it exceeds by nearly $50,000 the 1952 total which had set a record up to that time. The 1952 figure was $470,390.

More New Records Set

The 1953 Christmas Clubs also set a new high in total number of people carrying accounts. The 1953 Christmas Clubs were joined by a total of 6,441 men, women and children as compared with the 6,218 in 1952.

Another new record is set by the county clubs in the size of the average check which is $80.56 this year. Last year the average amount distributed to each club member was $75.65.

Every bank in the county this year showed an increase in Christmas Club savings over last year, a survey of the 14 banks disclosed today.

One Bank Doubled Figure

All of them are planning Christmas Clubs for 1954 and most are opening club membership on or about December 1.

One of the most spectacular increases in Christmas Club savings occurred at the Abbottstown State Bank where savings more than doubled and at the Farmers Bank

EXCHANGE CLUB SEES FILM ON TRADE SCHOOL

Although less known and not nearly as financially secure as the publicized Iowa institution, the Pennsylvania George Junior Republic in every other way embodies the best qualities of the famed "Boy's Town" correction home, the Gettysburg Exchange Club learned Tuesday evening at its dinner meeting at Bankert's.

A film, "Pennsylvania Junior Republic," was shown depicting scenes of the school formed for the purpose of readjusting the lives of delinquent youths and supported primarily by funds supplied by the Pennsylvania Exchange Board of Control representing more than 60 Keystone Exchange Clubs.

The film was brought to Gettysburg by Bernard Kessler, Waynesboro, a member of the Board of Control of the Junior Republic located near Grove City, Pa.

"Run By The Boys"

While stressing lack of regimentation, restraining factors and distinguishing uniforms, the 45-minute technicolor motion picture pointed up the "homey" atmosphere within the Republic, where the important task of rejuvenation of the youth's body and mind takes place.

"The institution is run by the boys for the boys and seeks to teach them that labor is an honorable thing," Kessler said.

The Pennsylvania Junior Republic is keyed to the theme of "Cleanliness." On its 660 acres, much of the Republic's activity centers around farm life, although many trades are taught. None of the farm products are ever sold, Kessler said, explaining that the benefits of the

TWO HUNTERS ARE FINED $25 AFTER HEARING

Two men who were charged with hunting within a posted and protected area on November 2 were fined $25 each after hearings Tuesday evening before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore.

The charge, brought by Leo E. Bushman, Adams County game protector, alleged that the pair had gone within a posted area around the buildings of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Transaue, Mt. Pleasant Twp., on the second day of hunting season.

Basehore collected the fine from Charles Sentz, McSherrystown, and allowed the other defendant, Philip J. Luckenbaugh, Hanover, two weeks in which to pay his levy.

At the hearing Deputy Game Protector Richard H. Hamm testified he heard a shot as he approached the Transaue property and saw one of the hunters pick up a pheasant in the posted land. Mr. and Mrs. Transaue testified they had not given the men permission to hunt there.

The defendants claimed they had shot the pheasant outside the posted area but that it had fallen inside the area. Sentz claimed he had received permission to hunt from Mrs. Transaue but she denied it.

FAIR PREMIUM CHECKS MAILED TODAY TO 840

Premium checks were in the mail today for 840 persons who won prizes at the 1953 South Mountain Fair in September, it was announced by W. Clayton Jester, executive secretary of the fair association.

The checks total $2,100, a new high in fair history, Mr. Jester said.

The distribution is being made to the longest list of prize winners the fair association ever attained. The distribution of prizes in other years has involved about $1,600 to $1,800.

More prizes went to the Gettysburg post office than any other in the county while Biglerville ranked second, the fair officials said. There were prize checks for every post office in the county and "quite a number" were mailed to residents of nearby counties.

DAIRY FARMERS IN COOPERATIVE ELECT OFFICERS

Operation of the interstate Milk Producers Cooperative was outlined Monday evening at a meeting of the Biglerville and York Springs locals of the organization held at the New Oxford Fire Hall. A total of 178 members and their families from the two locals were present for the annual turkey banquet and meeting.

The members proposed Wilbur F. Barkdoll, Mont Alto, the present District 25 director, as their nominee for another term as director from the area in which the two county locals are located.

At Waynesboro Today

Members of the York Springs local at the same time renamed as their officers; Joseph Stoner, East Berlin, president; Charles Reinecker, vice president; Russell Grove, secretary-treasurer; John K. Mansberger, delegate, and Stewart Lucabaugh, alternate delegate.

The delegates from the two locals joined delegates from other District 25 locals at Waynesboro Tuesday in naming the district director for the year. The delegates will also attend the annual meeting of the cooperative December 10 and 11 at Philadelphia.

O. H. Hoffman Jr. general manager of Interstate, told the group that their organization handled 838,000,000 pounds of milk valued at $46,000,000 in the last year. Since Interstate has been established, a total of $528,000 has gone to the members in patronage refunds and $154,000 has been paid out under the market guarantee program of the organization. The "market guarantee" provides payment for milk during periods when a herd may be under quarantine, or when a milk buyer goes out of business suddenly.

Hoffman told the group that "there is still a surplus of milk and it will continue for some time. With the beef market in difficulties as far as prices are concerned, many farmers are holding on to cows that otherwise would be culled out of the herds and sold for meat. Those cows produce milk that helps swell the surplus. In addition, a great many herds have been doubled during the last year." Hoffman told of the efforts of the Dairy Council and the Interstate group to promote use of milk and dairy products through advertising in the Philadelphia area.

E. C. Dunning, Chambersburg, field man for the district, told the group $98,100.96 was allocated for capital at the conclusion of the year's operations bringing to $694,856.93 the amount with-held as reserve and capital. Patronage refunds during this year totaled $69,924.55. Cost of operation of the cooperative during the year was $336,623.64.

John Kratzert, agriculture teacher at the New Oxford High School, was master of ceremonies for the program. Charles Yost, iglerville High School principal, presented "Harry Lauder" impersonations.

The club donated $30 for the Sunday ice cream treat to be given to the guests of the Adams County Home during a month in 1954, and $10 for the Adams County Tuberculosis Society. Twenty-five dollars was donated for expenses in sending the Little League players to a baseball game in Washington in September.

report, he lauded Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, the librarian, and her staff as "one of the principal reasons for the upswing in circulation and services by the county library." Expressing appreciation to all of the organizations and individuals who have helped the library, Mr. Lott listed as "musts" in the library future: Paving at the front of the main library building, landscaping of the library grounds, development of a parking area at the rear of the library, erection of a garage and a stackroom and "many, many more books."

Mr. Lott listed the donation of a new bookmobile by the Musselman Foundation as "the highlight of the year" for the library. He made special mention of the annual contribution from the Beta Sigma Phi from their Valentine dance. Members of the sorority attended the meeting in a body Tuesday evening.

C. P. Keefer, chairman of the Finance Committee, presented the annual financial report.

Introducing her annual report, Mrs. Wilson introduced the members of the library staff: Mrs. Ilse B. Langershans, Mrs. Shirley M. Sinn and Mrs. Madeline Killalea.

The librarian called attention to figures of the annual report distributed to members in printed form. She pointed out that the library is serving 312 more school children than last year and that total circulation jumped 23 per cent in the last year. Circulation since November 1 of last year reached a new all-time high for this county of 147,016, the annual report showed. She said the library now has 16,737 books with 2,127 books added in the last year.

Mrs. Wilson spoke, too, of the need for many more children's books, and of the need for a new garage and stackroom with the coming next spring of the new bookmobile which will have a capacity of 2,000 books.

Mr. Kirkland was introduced by Mr. Asquith who with Mrs. Kenneth Smoke and Mrs. C. T. Ziegler were in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

An "open house" followed the meeting with members specially invited to inspect the children's second floor, recently completed with funds supplied by the Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

There were tea, coffee and cookies with Mrs. Luella Musselman Arnold and Mrs. Marie Kuhn, president of the Beta Sigma Phi, presiding at the tea table. Flowers for the tea table were the gift of Musselman's Greenhouse.

Speaking of "McCarthyism," Bentzel told the group: "We were founded as a nation in which the basic principle of law was that a man was innocent until proven guilty. Now we have apparently swung to the belief that a man is guilty until proven innocent. At least that appears to be Senator McCarthy's belief."

Mrs. John S. Rice was toastmaster for the dinner session. Among guests introduced and who brought greetings to the group were County Democratic Chairman Fred G. Klunk, John S. Rice, Commissioner G. Ed Taughinbaugh, John D. Lippy Jr. and Jay Bringman.

SOROPTIMISTS

Professional Women's Club; Milo Gallinger, the Rotary Club of Gettysburg; Glenn W. Guise, the Exchange Club, and C. A. Cluck, the Lions Club. The Soroptimist Clubs of Frederick County, York and Hanover also sent delegations.

Mrs. Guyon Buehler, program chairman, introduced the speaker, Dr. Martha Bailey, a graduate of Wilson and the Women's Medical College, who has practiced medicine in this area for the last 30 years. She spoke on her favorite subject "Geriatrics" which she defined as "doing something about the process of aging." She pointed out that aging begins the day we are born and that humans achieve 90 per cent of their growth before birth, 9 percent by the age of 20 and 1 per cent after 20. "We should therefore prepare early in life for better health in later years," she said. "Important factors are proper food for our age and the work we do; rest periods of 10 to 30 minutes each day; relaxation and exercise, and, most esential of all, the development of the proper mental attitude toward life which is more and more dependent upon religious faith."

It has been estimated that the United States now has over 13 million citizens over the age of 50 and in each community approximately one out of 12 are "senior citizens," the speaker said. "This has become a vital economic and political problem and each community should begin now to prepare to meet it. Service clubs as well as civic and social organizations can do a great deal to help through the establishment of recreational centers where older citizens can have the social contacts they need to help them feel useful and wanted. It is important for them to plan their own program of activities with the younger people aiding only in carrying them through. They need to be a part of, not apart from the community."

Discusses Housing

Housing of the aged is another problem which can be helped through the conversion of large residences into smaller units with low rentals where older people with fixed incomes may live independently. This is cheaper and more satisfactory than institutional care, she pointed out.

Mrs. Blaine Walter, president, and the Board of Directors of the Soroptimist Club were in charge of the celebration. The Gettysburg College Quartet entertained the group with vocal selections. Mrs. Donald Myers and Miss Martha Stallsmith had charge of arrangements; Mrs. George W. Boehner, table decorations; Mrs. D. Fred Siegal, entertainment, and Miss Anna Weaver, finance.

A large birthday cake was presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Hennig.

Maroons Lace Hanover: Scoring a trio of touchdowns in the second and last periods, Gettysburg high school's football machine crushed its old rival, Hanover high, Saturday afternoon before a large crowd, 21-0.

"Honey" Trostle, Maroon backfield ace, ran wild aganst the enemy and stood out on the offense throughout the entire game. He tallied the first touchdown in the second period following two successive runs of 12 and 15 yards. He also place-kicked three extra points.

Some of the sweetness of victory was taken away by a broken right leg suffered by "Ken" Tawney, star center. Tawney suffered his injury in the last half. . . .

The Maroons lost but one game during the season. . . . They also kept their record of never having lost on their new athletic field. . . .

Ten Maroons took part in their final game. Trostle, Fischer, Rosenstengel, Anzengruber, Furney, Sheely, Timbers, R. Deardorff, Culp and Thomas played their last games and put up a great exhibition. . . .

PLEA OF THE CARVER

Have the knife sharpened. No longer abuse it.
Tomorrow's Thanksgiving. I'm scheduled to use it
For critical grownups and youngsters, near starving.
When grace has been said I'll proceed with the carving.

When the table is set, see that nothing is lacking.
I can't stand a dull knife. It always means hacking.
I don't want a blade that hard
use has been roughing,
And don't overlook that long spoon for the stuffing.

I don't like my carving by loved ones derided.
I'll do the task well if the tools are provided.
So get me a sharp knife, if one you must borrow,
And I'll show you my skill with a turkey tomorrow.

THANKSGIVING

At candle-lighted altars bright,
Unchallenged, we in prayer unite
And keep, dear Lord, as people free,
This day we dedicate to Thee.

At every family table place,
Heads bowed, we say a simple grace
And with thanksgiving now recall
This boundless love, Thy blessings all.

For church and school in freedom's way;
For home and childhood's right to play;
For yield of field and vine and tree,
Our Father, grateful all are we.

RICH MAN, POOR MAN

The poor man has it on the rich man because he has a multitude of wants. They buzz about him like mosquitoes on a hot summer night in the country. You see the poor man can enjoy his wants even though they are never realized, whereas the rich man knows that he can satisfy most of his wants but they have no magic to stir his imagination, so outside what he has he wishes for nothing else. Money is his god.

We don't hear so much about rich men as we used to. It's no crime, however, to be rich any more than it is for a man to be poor. Most of the rich men of today were once poor — and some of them are going back to being poor to see if it's an improvement! It might be more wholesome at that.

One thing that I don't like is the classification of people who work. Are workers only the people who belong to unions? I have never belonged to a union but I have always worked and always will until I die. I have nothing against unions and I hope unions have nothing against me because I call myself a worker. I wear a white collar. Does that make me ineligible as a worker? Prof. Summer, the Yale teacher of some time ago, called the white collar worker the "Forgotten man." I am inclined to think that he had something there.

We will probably always have with us those who will prefer to steal rather than work. But anyone who wants to work should be an honored one in any community. Some one once sent a note to President Lincoln begging him to give a job to a boy who wanted to work. The President immediately sent a note to his War Secretary, Stanton, to give the boy a job at once for it wasn't a good idea for one who wanted to work not to be given the opportunity.

Rich man, poor man—they are all human and in a democracy should be honored and respected so long as they offer—and demonstrate—a desire to be useful.

Jr. Fellowship Meets

Barbe Miller was the junior leader at the meeting of the Junior Fellowship of Centenary Methodist Church on Monday evening. The Scripture was read by Mrs. Robert Crist. A Thanksgiving quiz was conducted and won by Jane Barton of the teen age group and Barbe Miller of the intermediates. June Miller, Hanover, a guest in attendance, played two piano solos, "Dancing Rain Drops" and "Silent Night Medley." Shirley Myers reported on the current fund raising project.

The group then promenaded to music as the boys and girls gave their donations for the Thanksgiving basket to be prepared and presented to a needy family for Thanksgiving. Thanks was extended to the boys and girls for their most gratifying response with food stuffs. The Thanksgiving basket will be presented by the pastor, the Rev. Harvey B. Simons. It was announced that beginning next Monday evening, the Fellowship will meet at 6:30 p.m. at the church, instead of 7:15 p.m. James Barnes was selected to the be junior leader next week.

Ask CAB To Dismiss Schedule Cut Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — —The Civil Aeronautics Board has been asked to dismiss a proposal by Allegheny Airlines to cut its schedule of flights into Lock Haven, Pa.

Mayor Charles E. Herr and other Lock Haven officials yesterday appealed to the CAB to halt the airline's move to schedule less than two round trips to the Pennsylvania city daily.

The petition by the Lock Haven delegation said the difficulty of night operations at Lock Haven have been used by the airline as a "red herring" in an effort to ignore the fact that two daylight flights could be made into the city daily.

GOUZENKO MAY BE QUIZZED BUT MIGHT EXPOSE HIM TO ENEMIES

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada appeared ready today to announce formally that U. S. Senate investigators can question ex-Russian Igor Gouzenko any time they want—but that the questioning may finger him for the Communists he exposed in 1946.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, in a statement to Parliament this afternoon, was scheduled to outline his government's reply to a second request from a U. S. Senate internal security subcommittee for an opportunity to question Gouzenko, former Soviet Embassy clerk who revealed a Russian spy ring operating in Canada.

Unofficial sources speculated that arrangements might be made for a secret meeting between Gouzenko and a subcommittee representative somewhere in Canada. It apparently would be up to Gouzenko whether he wanted to run the risk of exposure by attending.

Under Assumed Name

Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson outlined his government's new position on the Gouzenko request yesterday. He told the United Nations Correspondents Association in New York Gouzenko could, if he wished, go any place in the United States or Canada to talk to American investigators.

But if he does, Pearson added, Canada can no longer guarantee his safety or that of his family. Gouzenko, his wife and three children have been living under an assumed name and the protection of Canada's famed mounted police since he fled the Russian Embassy in Ottawa in 1946. He is now a Canadian citizen.

Pearson expressed confidence that the international tug-of-war over the former Soviet Embassy clerk would be cleared up to the satisfaction of both countries. U.S. Secretary of State Dulles told a Washington news conference yesterday he doubted the issue would put a lasting strain on U.S.-Canadian friendship.

Allentown Pastor Named Moderator

POTTSVILLE, Pa., (AP)—Dr. Walter H. Eastwood, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Allentown, has been named moderator of the Lehigh Presbytery—embracing Schuylkill, Lehigh and portions of Northampton and Monroe Counties.

The Rev. Rufus H. Lefevre, pastor of the Tamaqua Presbyterian Church, was chosen vice moderator at the elections held here yesterday.

The Presbytery also announced two ministerial changes: The Rev. Robert Bower, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Allentown, will go to the Baltimore, Md., Presbytery, and Dr. Raymond Wallace of the Weatherly, Pa., First Presbyterian Church, was shifted to the Newark, N.J., Presbytery.

Son Of Convicted Man Is Sentenced

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Thomas M. Wheatley Jr., 29, whose 51-year-old father was convicted in the Memorial Day shooting of a state policeman and a 17-year-old youth, has been sentenced to from two months to two years in Bucks County prison after pleading guilty to drunken driving and assault and battery charges.

Wheatley Sr. is awaiting sentence in the wounding of state polceman George Calderelli, 28, and Walter J. Leonhauser of Langhoren. The charges against father and son grew out of a tussle with the state policeman after the younger Wheatley's auto was wrecked on the Lincoln Highway near Langhorne.

"Friendships Are Important," Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower says Anglo-American understanding and friendship are "important to the stability of the free world."

In a telegram to the annual dinner of the English-Speaking Union of the United States, held here Monday night, Eisenhower said free nations "must work together in trust and intimacy."

"The political and economic realities of today's international situation," he said, "give ever growing, meaning and importance to our relationship.

"Especially in an era of ideological conflict, Great Britain and the United States, with the other nations which believe in human dignity and principles of justice, must work together in trust and intimacy."

U. N. SECURITY COUNCIL GIVES ISRAEL REBUKE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Ignoring Israeli appeals, the U.N. Security Council by a 9-0 vote last night rebuked the Jewish state for the killing of 53 Arabs in Jordan's Kibya village and called on her to see that such actions do not happen again.

The resolution—sponsored by the United States, Britain and France—brought protests from both Jordan and Israel. They do not belong to the council and have no vote there.

Israeli Delegate Abba Eban charged that the censure was loaded in favor of Jordan and warned that it might torpedo the direct Israeli-Jordan talks his government has demanded.

Called "Milk Sop"

Sources close to Jordan labeled the resolution a "milk-sop" which merely chided Israel and did nothing to punish her.

Charles Malik of Lebanon, only Arab member of the 11-nation council, abstained on the vote along with Russia. Malik explained to reporters later he felt the resolution was not nearly strong enough and did not call for compensation to families of the Kibya victims.

Israel derived some consolation, however, from the Big Three's last-minute change in their resolution to take note of Eban's invoking of Article 12 of the Israel-Jordan armistice agreement to summon both parties to obligatory peace talks. One Israeli source said this was the only constructive result of the long, bitter Kibya discussion.

NEW RECORDS ARE MADE BY BULLET SQUAD

In rolling to its best season in 63 years of inter-collegiate competition, the 1953 Gettysburg College football team, which won eight and lost one, established several team and individual records.

Individually, sophomore quarterback Frank Gagliardi, who paced the team in total offense, established a new mark for most touchdown passes in one season by connecting for 18. The old mark was 15, established in 1949 by quarterback Ross Sachs, now an assistant coach at Johns Hopkins University. Gagliardi, a 175 pounder from Long Branch, N. J., broke the record in the next to last game of the season against Bucknell, and then added his 17th and 18th against Franklin and Marshall in the final game of the campaign. On the season, Gagliardi completed 62 for 105 good for 957 yards, and rushed for 177 yards in 79 carries for a total offense of 1,134 yards.

Halfback Joe Ujobai, 155-pound senior from Phoenixville, became the first back in Gettysburg's modern history to score more than 100 points in one season. The shifty runner piled up 107 points on 14 touchdowns and 23 conversions to lead all Pennsylvania scorers. Ujobai was one of the East's top rushers with a net gain of 662 yards in 104 carries for a 6.4 average. He also caught 10 passes good for another 268 yards. Ujobai became the first back in modern Gettysburg history to score 35 points in a single game, turning the trick with five touchdowns and five extra points in the Bullets' 60-19 win over Lebanon Valley, and he was the only player in Bullet football history to receive the Philadelphia Maxwell Club Award twice.

By winning eight straight games, the 1953 team recorded the longest winning streak and recorded the best win-loss record in the school's history. Gettysburg lost to Delaware in the season opener by a 19-7 count, and then rolled to successive victories over Western Maryland, Albright, Lehigh, Muhlenberg, Lebanon Valley, Dickinson, Bucknell and Franklin and Marshall.

SPEEDWAY MEN

called the case for sentence and then informed the court that the original indictment contained in effect three counts in two. One covering operating of the track on Sundays and weekdays and the other covering the conspiracy. The defendants were willing to enter pleas of nollo contendere to the charges of operating a public nuisance on Sunday, and to the conspiracy, Teeter told the court, but not to weekday operation.

Pointing out that there is not too great an amount of evidence to support a charge that the speedway is a public nuisance during the week days, the district attorney asked the court to "nol pros" the original indictment and permit filing of a new indictment covering the Sunday operation only.

Cite $60,000 Investment

With that permission granted, the pleas of nolle contendere to maintaining a public nuisance on Sundays and conspiracy to violate the Sunday laws were accepted. Attorneys Richard A. Brown and J. Francis Yake Jr. represented the track owners.

Attorney Brown told the court: "While we admit that the Sunday operations were illegal, the defendants have been lulled into operating this amusment on Sunday because, as we all know, the Act of 1794 is honored mostly by its violation. But the defendants, discovering that their operation is illegal under existing Pennsylvania laws, did not wish to take up the time of the court by bringing the matter to trial.

"We feel it is only fair to call attention to the locality of the track, in practically open country, and to point out that the prosecutrix in the case, Mrs. Evelyn M. Weaver is a former employe of the defendants. The defendants have spent in the neighborhood of $60,000 in creating this establishment. We feel that the case should not be in criminal court, but feel it should have been privately handled."

Under Act Of 1939

District Attorney Teeter said after the close of court that the public nuisance part of the indictment had been brought under Section 669.4 of the Penal Code of Pennsylvania of 1939 which provides that "whosoever does or performs any worldly employment or business whatsoever on the Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday, (works of necessity or charity excepted) . . . or who uses or practices any game, hunting, shooting, sport or diversion whatsoever on the same day, unless authorized by law, shall upon conviction . . . pay a fine of $4 for the use of the commonwealth or in default thereof serve six days in jail."

Teeter said state law has permitted districts by local option to make baseball and Sunday movies legal on Sundays but said he was not aware of any law permitting legalized Sunday races.

Section 699.4 permits restaurants, hotels, druggist, etc., to carry out certain defined functions on the Sabbath.

NEW DODGER MANAGER NOT JUST "FILL IN"

BROOKLYN (AP)—Walter (Smokey) Alston, new Brooklyn Dodger pilot, will not be an interim manager.

Dodger President Walter F. O'Malley stressed that point with special emphasis today, going at great lengths to explain that "no one will be breathing down his neck. The job is his . . . for many years to come. . . I hope."

Alston, a comparative unknown, was named to succeed Charlie Dressen yesterday after Pee Wee Reese, shortstop and captain of the Dodgers, had declined the rol of a playing manager.

One Year At $25,000

The contract is for one year at an estimated $25,000 salary.

The 42-year-old resident of Oxford, Ohio, who has been serving as manager in the Dodger farm system for 8½ years, saw the briefest of service in the major leagues. He appeared in only one game and was at bat only one time. That was in 1936 as a member of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"I got up only one time," he recalled with a smile. "Lon Warneke was pitching. I fouled off a couple then struck out. We had Johnny Mize, Rip Collins and Dick Siebert so I just had 'a cup of coffee.' "

O'Malley, who sat side by side with his new manager during the two-hour press conference at the Dodgers' office, franwkly voiced his concern that Alston would be looked upon in certain quarters as an interim manager, filling in only until Reese was ready to take over the managerial reins.

"The Logical Man"

"That definitely is not so," he declared. "Reese will not be a shadow creeping up on Alston. Pee Wee is a fine, understanding and wonderful person. If Reese wants to manage when his playing career is over, we will give him an opportunity to manage in our minor league organization. Or he may start out on top—but it would have to be with another big league club.

"Alston is the logical man to succeed Dressen. His promotion, in line with our policy of rewarding our own men, is a justification of his record in the Dodger organization. He has the character, know-how and the ability. He is a sound baseball man. The boys (Vice-Presidents E. J. Bavasi, Fresco Thompson and scouts Andy and Red Corriden) were all unanimous in selecting Walter."

Knows The Players

Although Alston admitted he had seen the Dodgers play only once since 1936 and had never seen a World Series game except on television, he has a personal acquaintance with a majority of the Dodger players. There are 25 players on the current Brooklyn roster who have played at some time under Alston during his managing career. He finished second with Montreal last season but won the International League playoffs and defeated the New York Yankees' Kansas City American Assn. farm club in the Little World Series, four games to one.

Could this be the big reason for naming him Dodger manager, O'Malley was asked.

"I am very much aware of anybody who ever beats the Yankees or any part thereof," he replied. "It's no secret that we're out to win a World Series. That means we've got to beat the Yankees and we're going to point for it."

UCLA's Cameron Is Back Of Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Tailback Paul Leslie Cameron, guiding football genius at UCLA, today was named the Associated Press Back of the Week for leading the Bruins to a victory over Southern California and into the Rose Bowl.

Cameron, a Burbank, Calif., native who has been singled out for his all-around ability and team leadership throughout the season, scored the touchdown that clinched UCLA's 13-0 triumph.

Quarterbacks Francis (Cotton) Davidson of Baylor and Bernie Faloney of Maryland were runners-ups this week. Faloney is a resident of E. Carnegie, Pa.

3 STATE MEN ON ON CONFERENCE ALL-STAR SQUAD

BALTIMORE (AP) — Three Pennsylvanians, all members of Maryland's No. 1 ranked college football team, were named today as first team members of the 1953 Associated Press Atlantic Coast Conference all-star squad.

They were tackle Stanley Jones of Lemoyne and backs Bernie Faloney, of East Carnegie and Ralph Felton of Midway.

Faloney emerged from the shadow of Jack Scarbath, Maryland's 1952 All-America quarterback, to give unbeaten Maryland continued excellence at that vital split-T position. He ran, passed, kicked, blocked and tackled with skill and led the team with poise and confidence.

Faloney was one of two first team players chosen unanimously by the AP selection board.

Felton, averaging 5.1 yards for his first 91 rushes, scored 53 points in nine games.

Maryland Coach Jim Tatum says Jones, an aggressive, flashy tackle is the strongest man in college football. Despite his 235 pounds Jones has speed and manueuverability.

Figures For Nation

A billion and thirty-three million dollars will be poured into the American economy by 11,740,000 Christmas Club members who will receive Christmas checks from 6,400 banks and savings institutions. Such were the national figures released today by Edward F. Dorset, president of Christmas Club, a corporation of New York.

The date for mailing out the checks varies in different sections of the country, but all of them will be distributed before National Prosperity Week which starts on Monday, November 30.

The total dollar distribution is the largest in the 43-year history of Christmas Club operation and represents a gain over the previous high in 1952. The average check for each Christmas Club member will be $87.99 as compared with $87.35 last year.

Not all of that billion dollars will go to Santa Claus. Surveys by the corporation show that some 400 million will be used for Christmas purchases while 300 million will go right back into various forms of permanent savings. The balance will be used for such constructive purposes as paying insurance premiums, cleaning up year-end bills, paying taxes and reducing the mortgage.

Only seven points were scored in the Duke-North Carolina grid games in 1930, '31 and '32. The 1930 and '31 games ended in 0-0 ties. Duke won the 1932 game by 7-0.

TRADITIONAL GRID GAMES ACROSS NATION

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the week of tradition in college football. Except for the Notre Dame-Southern California game, neighbor will be slamming neighbor. And the Irish-Trojan rivalry is so established the two can argue as neighbors anyway.

Last week's forecasting efforts ran the season's figures to 336 correct picks and 90 misses. That brought the average to .789.

Munger's Farewell

Here are the final picks of the year:

THURSDAY

Penn over Cornell: This is George Munger's farewell as coach of the Pennsylvanians. He will leave them smiling.

Texas over Texas AM: The Longhorns' talent on the field will overcome any advantage the Aggies may derive by playing at home.

Utah over Brigham Young: The game you will see on your TV screen. The Utes already have clinched the Skyline Conference title.

Picks Army Over Navy

Other Thursday games:

Colgate over Brown, South Carolina over Wake Forest, Detroit over Wichita, College of Pacific over Utah State, Virginia Tech over Virginia Military, Wyoming over Denver.

SATURDAY

Army over Navy: Army has the more cohesive unit. Fred Attaya, the Cadet back and Army's best kicker, will not be able to play. Steve Eisenhauer, Navy's great lineman, has been shifted to his old position. Yet the cards all say Army. You can see for yourself on the TV screen.

Notre Dame over Southern California: The Irish forces unveil their talents on the edge of Hollywood. They will win their gridiron Oscar. Johnny Lattner to have a busy afternoon.

"The Sieve" Makes It Easy

Georgia Tech over Georgia: The Georgia line has been dubbed "the sieve." That should make it easy for the Tech backs in their Sugar Bowl prep.

Holy Cross over Boston College: The Crusaders are back on the right track after a midseason slump.

Rice over Baylor: What a block and tackle party this will be. Rice to win and share the Southwest Conference title with Texas.

Duke over North Carolina: Worth Lutz and Country Meadows to pull the Blue Devils alongside Maryland as co-champion of the new Atlantic Coast Conference.

Alabama over Auburn: Two of the South's most powerful clubs commit mayhem on the Alabama field. That's what gives the Crimson Tide a slight edge.

Other Selections

Finishing the season in a hurry: East: Villanova over Fordham. South: Tennessee over Vanderbilt, Florida State over North Carolina State, Mississippi over Mississippi State, Florida over Miami, William and Mary over Boston University.

Southwest: Southern Methodist over Texas Christian, Texas Tech over Hardin-Simmons, Oklahoma over Oklahoma A&M, Arkansas over Tulsa.

Far West: Colorado over Colorado A&M, Arizona over Tempe State.

SATURDAY DEC. 5

Notre Dame over Southern Methodist, Houston over Tennessee.

The halfback from Phoenixville, leading ground gainer in the Eastern Intercollegiate Athletic Assn., scored 14 touchdowns and 23 conversions. His winning total was 36 points better than runnerup Fred Prender of West Chester State Teachers College.

Ujobai succeeds Harry Miller of Kings College who won the title last year with Joe Scafuri of Thiel and Bill Rollins of Washington & Jefferson. Each scored 66 points.

Four High School Football Conference Titles Hinge On Outcome Of Tilts Thursday

By DICK HOENIG

HARRISBURG (AP)—Annual traditional rivalries before turkey dinners make up the final regular season card of the 1953 scholastic football campaign tomorrow.

Four conference pennants ride on the outcome of Thanksgiving holiday clashes, one a playoff Saturday for top honors in the Pittsburgh area WPIAL between two unbeaten and untied elevens.

A schedule of about 25 major contests in eastern and central Pennsylvania closes out the three-month campaign except for two league playoffs Dec. 5. The East Penn, second largest in the state, and the Philadelphia City League won't choose titlists until next month.

Most of the games, however, are those season finales which every club points to throughout the season: The big one that can make a success from an otherwise mediocre campaign and also the type in which the form sheet is worthless. Favorites are meaningless.

Classic Clash

The Har-Brack-Donora encounter for the WPIAL's Class AA diadem promises to be one of the best of the year. It's a superior defensive team (Donora) against an excellent offensive unit (Har-Brack).

Season statistics show only four Donora opponents were able to score and they totaled 27 points. Har-Brack poured 385 across opponents' goals for an average 43 per game. Har-Brack's power rates any edge there can possibly be.

Blakely (7-2), which has completed it season, will lose its top position in the Lackawanna if Scranton Tech (3-1-1) is able to down crosstown rival Scranton Central. A guess on Central which has come on strongly the last month.

Pottstown (3-1-1) can sew up the Chestmont championship with a victory over Downingtown (3-2) but a loss could lead to a three-way tie on the top of the heap. Philadelphia Northeast (6-0) needs a win over Central to take the city's public league title and qualify for the playoff against the Philadelphia Catholic champ, St. James of Chester (7-0).

East Penn Title

Results of the Mount Carmel-Shamokin, Coaldale-Lansford, West Hazleton-Hazleton and Berwick-Newport Twp. games will decide whether Pottsville or Schuylkill Haven wins the Southern Division of the East Penn. Pottsville (6-0-1) layinpg non-league reading for the 60th time, and Schuylkill Haven (6-0-1), which has completed its schedule, are tied for first. The performance of their former opponents will be the deciding factor.

West Scranton can take the Northern half by downing Dunmore, the team that held West from winning last year with Thanksgiving Day 6-6 deadlock.

An Allentown win over Bethlehem gives the canaries another Big Three crown.

Six wrong calls last week in 18 tries resulted in a 66.7 average for the week and left the season mark on 545 statewide predictions at 76.5 per cent correct. Tomorrow's picks:

Other Contests

Har-Brack over Donora, Williamsport over Steelton, Harrisburg John Harris over Harrisburg William Penn, Reading over Pottsville, Mechanicsburg over Carlisle, Shamokin over Mount Carmel, Wilkes-Barre Coughlin over Kingston, Wilkes-Barre GAR over Wilkes-Barre Meyers, Plymouth over Nanticoke, Berwick over Newport Twp., Lansford over Coaldale, West Scranton over Dunmore, Hazleton over West Hazleton.

Old Forge over Taylor, Scranton Central over Scranton Tech, Duryea over Avoca, Stroudsburg over East Stroudsburg, Chester over Media, Upper Darby over Haverford, Pottstown over Downingtown, West Chester over Berwyn, Norristown over Bridgeport, Phoenixville over Coatesville, Philadelphia Northeast over Philadelphia Central, Allentown over Bethlehem, and Phillipsburg (N. J.) over Easton.

Penn Seeks Final Victory For Munger

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Penn's Quakers, who deserted the Ivy League this year for a suicide football schedule, get a chance tomorrow to compare themselves with the loop's best when they meet Cornell for the 60th time.

The annual Turkey Day battle at Franklin Field this year involves only tradition. Cornell already has clinched the Ivy League crown which on many previous occasions was decided in this game. And Penn—with a single Ivy opponent—never had a chance to defend the title it won last year.

The Quakers have a special reason for winning tomorrow and its probably why they're slight favorites. They want to give Coach George Munger a farewell present. Munger says he intends to retire after tomorrow's game after 16 colorful years as head coach.

of Communists in government, McCarthy said he is somewhat concerned that the Republican party "might also fall victim to the same evil which beset the Democrat party and did so much toward destroying this nation."

Davies, a career diplomat who was cleared by the Loyalty Review Board during the Truman administration, recently was questioned by the board again and then returned to Germany, where he is an adviser to the U. S. high commissioner. He had been assailed by McCarthy before.

Sees '54 Issue

McCarthy, declaring his fight against communism in government to be an issue in the 1954 election campaign, said:

"The raw, harsh, unpleasant fact is that communism is an issue and will be an issue in 1954.

"If the American people agree with Truman that what he calls 'McCarthyism' is bad, that it is wrong to dig out and expose traitors, they have a chance to get rid of me as chairman of the investigating committee next fall by defeating any Republican up for election."

President Eisenhower told a news conference last week that he hoped the problem of Communists in government would be resolved in time so that it would not be an issue next year.

Schedule Hearing On Pennsy Service

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission will hold hearings on Dec. 2 in Philadelphia on complaints against the Pennsylvania Railroad's curtailed passenger service between Norristown and Philadelphia.

The PRR's move, protested by eight Philadelphia suburban area commuters, cut passenger service from 25 to 12 trains on the 20-mile Schuylkill Valley Branch run between the two cities.

Counsel for the protestants said some 1,000 commuters signed a petition objecting to the railroad's action.

The State Superior Court last week turned down an appeal by the commuters for a directive to halt the train changes pending hearings and a final PUC order.

Father's Kindess Turns To Tragedy

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—Many times 15-year-old Simon Albright Jr. of nearby Salisbury, Pa., pleaded with his father to take him to the coal mine where he works. Each time the father refused.

Yesterday Albright finally agreed. The youth, his eyes bright with curiosity, went into the old smokeless mine near Boyton with his father.

The day's work was nearly over and young Albright was helping pick up the mine tools when a huge rock fell and crushed him to death.

TO ADDRESS DINNER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Democratic National Committee has scheduled for Dec. 12 an Atlantic States conference and dinner here with Adlai Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, as the principal speaker.

A committee spokesman said that the dinner will be preceded by a day-long discussion session, concentrating on the subjects of the next congressional session and the 1954 congressional elections.

If your family enjoys unusually tender fried chicken, cut the bird into serving portions and then steam it until tender. Now dip it into any preferred batter and fry in deep fat until golden-brown.

Plan To Reward PWs Who Resisted Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is considering decorating or giving some other recognition to former war prisoners who resisted torture and refused to make false confessions for Communist propagandists.

A spokesman said today that official recommendation of such action must await completion of a detailed study of each individual case.

Such recognition presumably would go to five airmen who refused to succumb to pressure by the enemy—Lt. John Streit of South Orange, N. J.; M/Sgt. George Morar of Rockville, Md.; Capt. William Preston of Batavia, N. Y.; Capt. Zach Dean of Douglass, Kan., and Capt. William McTaggart of East Brady, Pa.

Hubby Immersed Pretty Wife In Wine; Divorce Is Granted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The judge leaned forward yesterday when Billie Infante, a pretty model seeking a divorce from her husband Anthony, testified:

"Once he immersed me in wine."

"Immersed you in what?" Judge I. L. Harris shot back.

"In wine."

"Oh, how did he do it?"

"Poured it over my head."

"In other words, he didn't dunk you in a bathtub or anything. Was it red or white wine?"

"As a matter of fact, it was red."

"A bottle or a glass?"

"A glass."

"Not exactly total immersion then," the judge said, winding up the matter.

Divorce granted.

2ND COURTROOM RECOMMENDED

HARRISBURG (AP) — A recommendation for a second courtroom in the Harrisburg Federal Building was submitted yesterday to Robert J. Colgan, construction engineer of the U.S. General Services Administration.

Colgan met with U.S. District Judges Albert L. Watson, John W. Murphy and Frederick V. Follmer to receive the court's recommendations. He said they would be sketched for architect's plans.

The proposed changes would require construction between two wings of the federal building, which also houses the Harrisburg Post Office.

The jurists also asked to shift the court's chambers from the east to the west side of the building, re-arrangement of offices and air-conditioning.

Colgan declined to predict what would be done about the recommendations. He said the conference was arranged "to get the ideas of all concerned."

Other officials noted that federal financing would be necessary after plans have been drawn.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania's population increased from 10,498,012 on April 1, 1950, to 10,558,000 on July 1, 1952, the Census Bureau reports.

Nationally, the Census Bureau said yesterday, the population increased more than five million.

McCarthy Offers Himself As Political Issue And Attempts To Force Ike's Hand On Policy

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy has not only offered himself as a national political issue, but has contradicted President Eisenhower and is attempting to force Eisenhower's hand in foreign affairs.

The Wisconsin Republican last night combined a television-radio reply to former President Truman's blast at "McCarthyism" with his strongest bid yet for political prominence.

McCarthy was left on the sidelines when the Eisenhower administration through Atty. Gen. Brownell, accused the Truman administration of laxity in ridding the government of Communists.

This was the charge McCarthy had been making for years. But once Brownell made it, it was the Senate's subcommittee on internal security—headed by Sen. Jenner, Indiana Republican—which picked up the ball and ran with it, not McCarthy's Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Avoided McCarthy Clash

Last night McCarthy must have disillusioned anyone who thought he would stay in the wings while Brownell's sensational accusations were being examined and investigated.

From the time he took office last January Eisenhower has avoided any public head-on clash with McCarthy—even when the senator tried to block the president's nomination of Charles E. Bohlen as ambassador to Moscow.

If Eisenhower hoped a collision with the senator could be avoided indefinitely, he has learned differently, for McCarthy last night criticized not only the Democrats but Eisenhower's administration as well.

In a recent news conference Eisenhower expressed a hope that Communists-in-government would not be an issue in the 1954 congressional elections. Last night McCarthy, in recalling this statement, said:

"Red Is Issue"

"The raw, harsh, unpleasant fact is that communism is an issue and will be an issue in 1954."

As a rallying point and national issue himself—

McCarthy said: "If the American people agree with Truman that what he calls McCarthyism is bad, that it is wrong to dig out and expose traitors, they have a chance to get rid of me as chairman of the investigating committee by defeating any Republican up for re-election."

Criticism of the administration and attempt to force Eisenhower's hand—

McCarthy called on the people to threaten with defeat at the polls their elected officials—his would include Eisenhower and members of both parties in Congress—if they didn't stop aid for any ally "shipping sinews of war to the enemy (Red China)."

He slammed Truman and the Democrats, as was usual and to be expected, for not getting Communists out of the government faster. And he said in this field the Republicans had done "infinitely" better. He pointed to 1,456 "security risks" fired under Eisenhower.

But then he said he wanted to look at where the Republican administration's batting average was what he called "zero."

He pointed to John Patton Davies—diplomat still in the government after McCarthy's long efforts to get him out.

Then he turned to "failure of my party to liquidate the foulest bankruptcy of the Democrat administration." He cited a Chinese Communist announcement, after the truce-signing, that American fliers shot down over Manchuria would not be released.

Trade With Reds

At the same time, he said, American allies, getting American aid, are trading with the Chinese Communists. How to force the Red Chinese to give up the fliers? His solution: shut off trade with them.

McCarthy said:

"You can say to those whom you have elected to man the watchtowers of this nation, Democrat and Republican alike; 'you will be taken down from those watchtowers if you continue to take money from my paycheck today and send it to any of those allies who are in turn shipping the sinews of war to the Communist enemy.'"

McCarthy's 30 minutes on television and radio was not sufficient time for him to deliver the full speech he had prepared, but he said he stood behind the full test.

Five Arrested In Theft Of Detonators

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Five men were arrested by state police yesterday on charges growing out of the theft of $2,500 worth of dynamite detonators and timers from mining operations in the past three months.

Cpl. Roger L. Spence said burglary charges were brought against George Kuchak, 40, and John Stemphosky, 18, both of Jessup, and William Siniawa, 19, of Olyphant. Gino Ginstini and John Sobelskie, Jessup mine operators, were charged with receiving stolen property, Spence said.

Ginstini was held in $2,000 bail and Sobelskie in $1,000. All were sent to Lackawanna County jail pending arraignment today.

IKE PLAYS GOLF, PREPARES FOR BIG THREE MEET

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower divided his time today between a vacation round of golf and preparations for the forthcoming Big Three conference in Bermuda.

Comfortably settled in a cozy new "Little White House" for a Thanksgiving holiday, Eisenhower was up about 7 a.m. and turned after breakfast to study of arrangements for the conferences with Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain and French Premier Laniel to be held in Bermuda Dec. 4-8.

Then he stepped out into the warm sunshine for 18 holes of golf at the Augusta National Golf Club. He played yesterday, too, shortly after arriving by plane from Washington. He will have Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow with his family, including the three grandchildren.

Much Work To Do

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, said the arrangements for the Bermuda conference included study of various State Department memoranda and work on selection of the United States delegation.

Snyder told newsmen while no formal agenda is planned for the conference, "there is a vast amount of detail" to be handled in preparation for the Big Three sessions.

The President's vacation headquarters here are at the Augusta National Golf Club.

Since 1900, the United States has produced about 129 million motor vehicles.

SEE TALBETT REVERSAL AS NEW PRECEDENT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pentagon officers speculated today over the effect Secretary of the Air Force Talbott's reversal of a reserve officer's security dismissal might have on similar cases under study.

Talbott would say only that "the decision was mine alone."

He authorized this direct quotation for a report some hours after he announced yesterday that he had cleared Lt. Milo J. Radulovich, who had been threatened with discharge because of alleged Communist sympathies of his father and sister.

Overrules Everybody

The original security board found he was a doubtful security risk—but did not question his loyalty—and recommended that his commission be recalled. The personnel council, top-ranking adviser to the Air Force secretary on such matters, disagreed with some details but agreed with the conclusion.

Thus, Talbott overruled all of the agencies and advisers provided for him by law in clearing Radulovich.

Radulovich's attorney had said his client was accused because his sister reportedly joined in a Communist picket line and his father read a "radical" newspaper.

Now A GI Student

Talbott, in ruling the 26-year-old officer is not a security risk, said his "association with his sister is not such as to make her activities and beliefs the determining factor in this case."

He added that the record does not support the conclusion that the father had engaged in activities of "such a type as to bear upon the decision in this case."

Radulovich, married and the father of two children, now lives at Dexter, Mich., and attends the University of Michigan as a GI student. He served about eight years in the Air Force before going on inactive duty.

CHEERFUL NEWS IN FOOD STORES FOR THE HOLIDAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's cheerful news from the nation's food stores this week—plenty of everything for a well-rounded Thanksgiving dinner and good buys in several meats.

Th story on turkeys is that prices are much the same as a year ago. But all in all, theholiday dinner should work out a little cheaper than in 1952 because potaotes, onios, cranberries and some of the other essentials are lower in price.

While all attention has been focused on the turkey, pork prices have declined. Pork has been coming down for several weeks, and food store men are calling it a good buy. Pork loins are down 8 to 10 cents a pound. In New York bacon has dropped from 99 cents a pound about a month ago to 83.

Meat Cuts Lower

And a leading chain is presently featuring these reductions on center cut pork chops: 10 cents a pound in Chicago and Jacksonville, 8 cents in Philadelphia, 6 cents in Los Angeles and 4 cents in Pittsburgh.

Leg of lamb also is lower than it was a week ago, with reductions of two to four cents a pound fairly common. The beef market continues steady, but some stores are featuring items like beef roasts.

Frying chickens show little price change. Here and there, however, a couple of cents have been trimmed from week-ago prices.

Eggs are higher. Increases of two to as much as eight cents a dozen have been posted on top grade large whites. On the other hand, butter is off one to five cents a pound in numerous stores.

Men in the produce business say cabbage is an outstanding buy. Among the good buys are beets, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, potatoes and onions. Sweet potatoes are little higher than last week, but still fairly reasonable, the experts say. Celery is plentiful.

The best values in fruits, according to produce men, are pears and apples. Emporer grapes, largely from storage, are described as a reasonable buy.

Miss R. Jean Haar entertained at a shower at her home recently to honor a former classmate, Miss Joan E. Smeltz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. MAN IS KILLED AT THURMONT; STRUCK BY CAR

A resident of Blue Mountain, near Thurmont, was killed when struck by a car on Route 15 in front of the Shangri La Tourist Cabins, about a mile south of Thurmont, at 7:45 Monday night, when he apparently walked across the highway into the path of the vehicle.

Charles Martin Carbaugh, 58, was pronounced dead at the scene by the Frederick County Medical Examiner of a crushed chest and multiple fractures.

State Trooper 1/C G. L. Bowman said the car was operated by Arthur Dale Gernand, 20, Thurmont, who was released without charges.

The officer said Carbaugh was walking south on Route 15 when he attempted to cross from the west to the east side of the highway. He apparently stepped into the path of Gernand's southbound car. Witnesses said Gernand didn't have a chance to avoid striking the victim.

The victim was a former employe of the Potomac Edison Co. and a son of the late Emanuel and Mary Ellen O'Conner Carbaugh. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Jones Harbaugh; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Toms, near Thurmont; a grandson and these brothers and sisters: Mrs. Lily Wollard, Thurmont; Mrs. Julia Braunner, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Ellen Sweeney, near Thurmont; John and Ernest Carbaugh, near Thurmont.

The body is at the Creager Funeral Home, Thurmont, where friends may call. Prayers will be said at the funeral home Thursday morning at 10 o'clock with Fr. V. J. Tomalski officiating. Interment in Lewistown Cemetery.

SEEK CENTERS FOR TREATMENT OF ALCOHOLICS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The new chief of Pennsylvania's rehabilitation program for alcoholics will vist four cities soon to explore possible locations for diagnostic and treatment centers.

Dr. Earl F. Hoerner of Sellersville was given the top post of medical director in the program yesterday. He will take over Dec. 1 at a starting salary of $10,200.

Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are expected to be chosen as prime centers for the alcoholism campaign. But Harrisburg and Scranton also may get smaller diagnostic and information centers.

Announcement of Hoerner's appointment came at an organizational meeting of a new 20-member advisory committee on alchoholism.

Committee Is Warned

Hoerner was trained at Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia and the Graduate School of Public Health at the University of Pittsburgh. He served also in the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Section of Bellevue Hospital, New York.

The committee heard a warning from Dr. Nelson Davis, director of the Malvern Institute near Philadelphia, that the program must be careful to "treat only real alcoholism."

Mrs. Helen C. Snyder, administrative director of the program and chairman of the advisory committee, warned also that the group's work must not take on the tinge of being a "dry" movement. Its aim rather should be to eradi a disease.

To Provide 100 Beds

"With the commonwealth of Pennsylvania taking in 92 million dollars a year in the liquor industry, we can hardly be dry," Mrs. Snyder observed.

Philadelphia's plan to provide 100 beds at the old House of Correction and a clinic for alcoholics at Philadelphia General Hospital were outlined by Stanley Gomburg, assistant district attorney.

David M. Janavitz of Pittsburgh described his city's $150,000 program which includes research on the problem of alcoholism.

Rep. Vincent E. Gutendorf (R-Luzerne), also a committee member, said he believed Scranton would be the most suitable location in his area for a clinic although Wilkes-Barre has more hospital beds available at present.

Parking Lot Crews Will Go On Strike

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Some 350 workers on Sley System parking lots in downtown Philadelphia are scheduled to go on strike at midnight tonight.

The strike, called by the CIO-Transport Workers Union, will affect football fans planning to drive to Philadelphia for tomorrow's Penn-Cornell game and Saturday's Army-Navy game.

A spokesman for the union's Local 701 said the strike was voted after a breakdown of negotiations. He did not disclose details of the dispute. The company was not available for comment.

Governor Visits Shrines In Jordan

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania was back in Israeli Territory today after a visit to religious shrines in land now held by Jordan.

Gov. Fine yesterday visited shrines in Jerusalem and Bethlehem, including several in Jordan-held territory.

Fine went to Tel Aviv later to address the Tel Aviv branch of the Israel-American Friendship League.

He told a press conference "the Israeli government is more or less a bridgehead of democracy in the Middle East and it would be a terrific blow to democracy everywhere if Israel were to fail."

Dillsburg

DILLSBURG—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wall, who had lived several years at East Orange, N. J., after leaving their farm at Two Churches and who returned for a short time to reside at Aspers, have left to spend the winter at North Ft. Myers, Fla.

Owing to difficulty to obtain a substitute teacher for Mrs. Bert W. Trimmer, teacher at Aspers Schoolhouse, who is recovering from an operation, the Washingtorf Twp. school board has arranged for the division of her pupils among the schoolhouses of Airy Hill, Blue Hill, Krailtown and Darr's, for the time. Transportation has been provided by the district.

STANDING FIRM AGAINST THE TIDE—John Fazio may be thinking of King Canute as he watches a wall of water roaring over his head at the Belt Parkway, New York City, during a recent storm which hit the Eastern seaboard.

Mrs. Florence Bertolette, Lewisberry, who sustained a severe head injury November 12 in an auto crash near Wellsville, is reported as remaining in a serious condition at York Hospital.

The Men's Brotherhood of the Franklintown UB Church has begun preparations for their Christmas observance, a dramatized Bible story of the Birth of Christ entitled "No Room in the Inn," to be presented at the church service Sunday evening, December 20. The Rev. Myrl T. Slaybaugh is pastor.

Among operators' licenses suspended by the State Bureau of Highway Safety is that of Lawrence Stanley Weigard, Dillsburg R. 2, on a speeding charge. The license of Oscar Rosenberger, Dillsburg R. 1, and John S. Lenig, Dillsburg R. 1, have been restored.

The Harry Rinehart family has returned to Franklintown after a trip to Kentucky to visit Mrs. Rinehart's relatives.

M. E. Nell, formerly a Franklintown storekeeper, is now spending some time with his family at their new home near Dillsburg.

L. W. Cook, Wellsville R. 1, a member of the Washington Twp. school board, has been chosen among the committeemen to serve at the convention of the York County School Directors Association to be conducted at the York Court House in January. R. K. Lefever, Dillsburg, was named vice president of the York County school board at a meeting last week.

GIVES SECRET OF MAKING GOOD SPANISH RICE

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

COOKING SECRETS are fun — to give away. Want to know the secret of preparing real Spanish Rice? It lies in one simple process: Lightly browning the rice in fat before you ever add the tomato sauce. It's this little transaction with the saucepan or skillet that gives the nutty flavor connoisseurs of Spanish Rice hold in such esteem.

So many ways you can vary this good rice dish, so thrifty for family meals. Make it with that fine product — pre-cooked rice — and deck it with tuna and eggplant so it will be a hearty supper dish.

Ingredients: ¼ cup bacon drippings or butter or margarine, ½ cup thinly sliced bacon (1 medium-size), 1/3 cup diced green pepper (½ medium-size), 1 1/3 cups packaged pre-cooked rice, 1¾ cups hot water, two 8-ounce cans tomato sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, one 7-ounce can solid pack tuna (drained and flaked), 1 medium eggplant (about 1 pound), 1 egg (well beaten), 1 tablespoon water, fine cracker crumbs, shortening, parsley.

Method: Melt fat in saucepan or skillet. Add onion, green pepper and rice; cook and stir over high heat until lightly browned. Add water, tomato sauce, salt and pepper. Mix well. Bring quickly to a boil. Cover tightly and simmer 10 minutes. Add tuna fish and heat thoroughly. Meanwhile, wash and peel eggplant. Cut into slices about ½ inch thick. Sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste. Mix egg and water. Dip eggplant slices into egg mixture, then into cracker crumbs. Brown both sides in shortening over medium heat. Drain on absorbent paper. Arrange eggplant on platter and top each slice with a mound of the rice. Garnish with parsley. Makes 4 servings.

Here are easy-do variations on this recipe that you might like to try.

Prepare the Spanish rice as directed above, simmering for 10 minutes. Then instead of adding the tuna and serving with eggplant, add a half cup of grated sharp cheddar cheese; mix well and heat thoroughly. Turn into a serving dish and sprinkle with another half cup of grated sharp cheddar cheese.

Or simply serve the rice with its tomato sauce "as is," and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese.

Or add a cup of cooked diced lobster to the rice and tomato sauce and reheat.

Or add several diced canned pimientos to the rice and tomato sauce.

Or add one and a half cups of diced ham or canned luncheon meat to the rice and tomato sauce.

Note for new cooks: Cut a criss-cross in the top of baked potatoes as soon as they're ready. This way you allow steam to escape and prevent potatoes from becoming soggy.

HEAVY RAINS ARE FALLING IN NORTHWEST U. S.

Flood dangers appeared increasing in sections of the Pacific Northwest as more rain fell Tuesday from northern California northward.

Two persons have drowned and some 3,500 persons have been isolated by heavy rains in Oregon and northern California. In Coos and Curry counties, southwest Oregon, every major highway was blocked by high water or slides. The towns of Coquille, Myrtle Point, Powers and Bandon were isolated.

Rain continued in northern New England today, but the stormy weather which brought heavy rains in other Eastern states ended.

Rain mixed with snow fell across the northern Great Lakes region while light rain hit eastern sections of the Central Plains. Snow fell at higher elevations across the northern and central Rockies.

It was chilly over most of the central part of the country. Temperatures ranged from the high 20s along the Border States to the 30s and 40s in the Central Plains and Ohio Valley and in the 50s generally in Texas and the Lower Mississippi Valley. Readings were in the 30s and 40s in the Appalachians and ranged into the 50s along some coastal sections. They also were in the 50s along the Pacific Coast and in the far Southwest.

Sports Editor Offers Many Xmas Suggestions For Father

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

What to get dad for Christmas is the big question at this time every year.

Rather than get in a tizzy it might be well to think back.

Ask yourself: "What did father enjoy most during the spring, summer or fall?"

You will find that this one question will lead to a dozen others like: "What was wrong with his golf game?" or "What was it he longed for the day he went fishing?" or "Was it the ball or the shoes that bothered him that night he almost rolled 250?"

If father is a golf bug he ought to enjoy the "Lazy Golfer," a new gadget. It can be used almost anywhere, except maybe in the office when the boss is around.

The "Lazy Golfer" tees up 15 balls, eliminates stooping and fussing to get a golf ball in position. Plastic balls can be used even on the parlor rug.

After hitting the ball on the tee the next ball is released by touching the club head to a trigger. This operation sends another ball rolling to the tee. It is primarily designed to help a fellow groove his swing for the short chip or pitch shot, the most delicate stroke in golf.

"Lazy Golfer" (A.G. Spalding & Bros.) retails for $12.95.

Remember when dad said it was too expensive to own a boat? But didn't he say something about an outboard motor being the best thing for weekends and that it was just as simple to operate as the power lawnmower?

Johnson Motors is announcing a new Sea Horse 5½ horsepower motor that has licked the noise problem.

This has been done by involved cushioning in the connection between the motor and the boat in such a manner as to virtually eliminate all boat vibrations emanating from the motor. The vibrations, it seems, created most of the noise and today the putt-putt is a must, even to the extent that owners of large boats use one on the rear of their tender when going from shore to their mooring.

Another thing about the new 5½ Sea Horse is that the brass pin which turns the propeller no longer will be sheared when the prop hits a rocky bottom in shallow water.

Instead of the conventional drive arrangement this motor employs a spring actuated friction drive. When the prop encounters an obstruction the spring coils up, reducing the size and slips freely within a casing. When the obstruction [illegible] its normal size, bearing on the [illegible] driving the propeller.

Martin Motors of Eau Clair, Wis., has a new 200 Silver Streak 20 horsepower motor. It weighs 70 pounds and has a built-in fuel tank with gauge. Optional equipment includes a six-gallon auxiliary fuel tank.

Experienced sailors who go in for week-end boating suggest runabouts 14 or 16 feet.

California Catarmaran (Inglewood, Calif.) is coming out with a new Gay Cat super sailer. It is a catarmaran that has been clocked as high as 24 miles an hour under sail. It will also go well with an outboard motor. It is $995, less sails. A suit of sails can be bought for $104.

Remember dad fussing and fuming when he couldn't find those new weak fish hooks? Or remember the day he was fit to be tied when a wash wet his new reel?

All this helter-skelter arrangement can be overcome with a tackle box such as the new Ocean City Fiber Glass lightweight box. It is 16 inches long, 7½ inches wide and 7 inches high, weighs two and a half pounds and retails for $12.50. It holds floats, knives, reels, lines, sinkers and just about everything but the rod.

If dad had trouble gripping his bowling ball why not give him a gift certificate for one made to order? The Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. of Chicago features the type ball used by Marion Ladewig, who has won the national women's team title the last four years.

If little brother is a football player he should get a kick out of the new "Safe-T-Vue" face protector. It may make him look like a monster but he'll be more apt to come out of a scrimmage with his usual facial expressions. Rawlings of St. Louis, the manufacturer of the plastic face guard, which can be attached to a football helmet, says 53.9 per cent of all recorded injuries in football last year were injuries to the face and dental area.

It sure would be nice to give little brother more than his two front teeth for Christmas.

CHRISTMAS FOR PETS

Dress up your pet on Christmas Day. Put a bright red [illegible] your dog or cat and give the bird's cage a little decoration with Christmas ornaments.

SHE LOVES GAMES?

If she [illegible] gift list should be easy to put together— [illegible] a chess set, a card table cover, sets of ashtrays or glasses, any of the newest games, pads, pencils and books of instructions.

CERTIFICATES ARE LIKED

If you don't know what to buy that business associate who has been especially kind, why not give him a gift certificate to a local department store?

Baby kangaroos are only about an inch long at birth.

STAMPS MAKE GOOD GIFTS

By SYD KRONISH
AP Stamp Editor

Many parents are helping youngsters start stamp collections this Christmas. It makes a most thoughtful gift.

The first thing to do is to buy a large packet of stamps from all countries. The packet should not contain high valued or expensive stamps. To one starting out, the variety and number of stamps is more important than individual values.

Then buy an all-world album. A loose leaf type is probably best. An expensive album is not necessary because the boy or girl will want to buy a bigger and better or different type album at a later date.

Tell the youngster not to paste his stamps but use stamp hinges. A package of hinges costs only a dime.

The new all-world album and inexpensive issues are for youngsters who have no collection and not for those with a fair sized collection and a going hobby.

Be sure the boy or girl is not too young for stamp collecting. The minimum age should be about eight years, depending upon the child's ability to read and comprehend some geography.

If you have a collection of your own, a good suggestion would be to show the collection and tell how you started.

You can make stamp collecting a game for these youngsters, too. Many people start their collections by searching for stamps among old letters or papers. Friends who work in banks or business houses where letters arrive from far-off countries can help the new collector by adding to the collection.

Stamp collecting is more than a hobby for 19 million Americans. It is a means of relaxation as well as a factor in broadening one's mind.

WREATHS AND CANDLES BOOST XMAS SPIRIT

Lighted Wreaths; Outdoor Candles

Decorations that say "Merry Christmas" to all passersby are lighted wreaths and large lighted outdoor candles. You can buy these ready made around Christmas time, or you can improvise your own.

A wreath of evergreens can be mounted on a doughnut-shaped piece of hardboard or plywood cut to the size of the wreath. This ring is nailed to blocks or a shallow box to accommodate a 25-watt colored bulb set back in the center of the wreath as shown in top diagram. A short string of C-7½ Christmas lamps is then arranged around the wreath as shown in lower left.

Another effect is achieved by indirect lighting for a wreath. This can be done by mounting the string of C-7½ bulbs on the back of the wooden ring as shown in the center sketch. Then the assembled wreath is mounted on the door with heavy hardware mesh or blocks to hold the decoration out far enough so the bulbs will not touch the door.

The wire for any type of door wreath is stapled near the hinge side of the door, where plenty of slack in a loop allows the door to open freely.

* * * *

There are various ways to make a big candle. A length of 2-inch water pipe painted white can hold a socket in one end for a yellow bulb and the wire can be strung down through the pipe. A length of sewer pipe painted white will accommodate a floodlight or spotlight at the base to illuminate a twisted mass of colored cellophane to simulate a flame. Or a board can be cut to the silhouette of a candle, painted white and fitted with socket holes every 4 inches. A string for S-11 or C-9½ lamps can be run up the back and the bulbs screwed in from the front of the candle. Bulbs all of one color with a bright one for the flame, will give the best effect.

Needed for a Tree

To light an outdoor Christmas tree keep two factors in mind: 1. The shape of the tree; 2. the effect you want to create.

Tall trees are best lighted by draping strings of outdoor lamps diagonally to emphasize symmetry. Short, stocky trees with a heavy base growth look the best with strings of lights arranged in straight vertical rows as shown in this diagram.

Lighting engineers for General Electric have worked out an easy formula for you to follow. First decide the effect you want. To get a solid effect plan on using two lamps to every square foot. For the tree's outline only allow one lamp per square foot. A spotty effect is achieved by half a lamp per square foot, or one lamp to every two square feet.

Take that number of lamps per square foot and multiply it by the width of the tree at its bottom branch spread. Multiply this result by the height of the tree. Multiply this figure by 1.5 and you have the number of lights required.

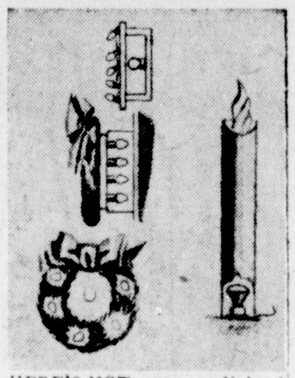
Lighted Greetings For Roof or Porch

You can put your greetings in type or writing by building a light box with a glass front. The box can be built of ½-inch or ¾" boards with a flange or grooves to hold the glass. Your hardware store will cut the glass panels to fit. Paint the inside of the box white and paint the glass to give it a frosted effect. Letters can be painted or pasted on the glass. Shellac will hold them. Porcelain sockets spaced about 6 inches apart will permit the use of 25-watt bulbs all of one color. The sign can be fitted with screw eyes for hanging.

The handyman can give his jacksaw or coping saw a workout by making silhouette letters out of hardboard as shown in the lower left sketch. For this type of sign, paint the letters white. This sign can be mounted to a porch railing with plumbers' strap.

You don't have to drill holes in the bricks in your chimney or damage the mortar and create fire hazards when you fasten a Santa Claus cutout or illuminated star up there for Christmas. Just build a wooden collar around the chimney with 1 by 2 strips and nail the cutout to this collar.

NEW CONTOUR beverage set in silver—console sticks, coffee pot, sugar bowl and cream pitcher. (Towle Photo)



HERE'S HOW to mount lighted wreaths and build big outdoor candles.

Here's a Fast Growing Christmas Tree

An artificial Christmas tree can spread cheer in your front yard these winter evenings if you don't have an evergreen of the right size or shape growing there. Cut a tree to the shape shown here from a sheet of hardboard of outdoor type plywood. Material ½-inch thick will be sturdy enough for fastening sockets from the back, so light bulbs can be inserted from the front. Mount the tree on a sharpened stake to be driven into the ground.

Here's how to give your Santa Claus cutout a big colored shadow. Place a spotlight in front of Santa to throw his shadow on the house. Put a floodlight with colored cap over the lens behind Santa to tint his shadow. Size and location of the colored shadow can be changed by experimenting with the position of the lamps.

Drill holes for the bulbs and surround each hole with a foil reflector, easily fashioned from regular kitchen type aluminum foil. Paint the tree green and use C-9½ or S-11 bulbs.

Handyman Can Make Lighted Cutouts

A carol singer, or two or three spread Christmas cheer in front of a house. These cutouts of hardboard or plywood are easily lighted with wiring attached to the back of the cutout and easily erected with a stake nailed to the back and driven into the ground.

Holes to admit colored bulbs in their receptacles are drilled around the perimeter of the figure. Use C-9½, C-7½ or S-11 bulbs. Lights should not be more than 3 inches apart if the cutout is a foot high — 6 inches apart, if the figure is 2 feet high, and so on, in proportion.

Round Packages

Many good things at Christmas seem to come only in round packages—fruit cakes, pipe tobacco, candies, bath powder. And a round package is tough to wrap. Jeannette Lee, designer of gift papers (for Hallmark), says this is not a very difficult job. She suggestshere is how to do it: attemping a hat box effect, and

Open A Stainless Pan Set As Gift

Yes, she'd also like something useful . . .

Most women love their homes enough to want gifts from Santa to improve their little abodes. Of course she'll have something personal, too, from the family we hope. But handsome pots and pans, a new steam iron, a vacuum cleaner, dish washer or washing machine that will lighten and brighten her work chores are top-of-the-pack favorites with homemakers.

If Mom's pots and pans are battered and beat, start her on a new set this Christmas. Your starter set can be three frying pans in 7, 8½ and 10½ inch sizes or the saucepans in one, two, three and four-quart saucepans or the Dutch oven, depending on how much you want to spend. You can add to any of these as time goes on.

By IRVING DESFOR

Christmas in the world of photography is a world of plenty . . . . plenty of choice items, costing plenty of money, giving plenty of satisfaction!

This is a new world too, with more color and realistic three dimensions to make it different from previous predominantly black-and-white, two dimensional picture taking.

Like few other fields, the photo market offers a tremendous range for the gift seeker to choose from—from practical items costing pennies up to thousands of dollars for equipment. You can start some one off who has never touched a camera before with inexpensive outfits for indoor flash as well as dependable sunshine, and be assured of adequate results . . . or find a brand new gadget for the guy who has everything.

Then again, this horn of photographic plenty can be a disadvantage . . . out of so many things, you can get the wrong sizes, materials or equipment, so some caution, and a knowledge of a camera fan's present size of camera and extent of accessories and personal preferences is required.

For those who want to splurge a little and explore a new world in photography, undoubtedly this year's star attraction is the enlarged realm of stereo or three dimension photography. There are several new stereo cameras, remarkably simple to operate, and all the accessories that go with them to bring the captured color images to real, just-looking-through-a-window-life. It is a field of pictures that has to be seen . . . to be wanted . . . stereo is like a contagious disease — it spreads rapidly by direct contact.

Stereo cameras cost from $100 to $175, with some brand new ones announced in the $40 range. A roll of 20 exposure stereo color film ($4.75, includes processing and mounting) and a hand viewer (from $10 to $20) are the three minimum items to start you off.

One of the biggest booms in recent years has brought "bottled sunshine" to the average amateur photographers in the shape of inexpensive flash equipment for inexpensive cameras. Ranging from $5 to around $15, plus 13 cents for each bulb, mothers and fathers could capture babies and families in the living room or parlor with hitherto impossible ease.

Color, too, has come down to the amateur level. Inexpensive cameras can shoot color film and get fairly good results. Color transparencies have zoomed in popularity and slide projectors for transparencies have zoomed right along as an appropriate and not too purse-straining a gift. They range from around $30 to under $100 for the luxury line.

Then there's the thrilling domain of home movies which needs little previous photographic experience as long as one can read and follow simple directions. The four minimum items necessary, and the minimum prices (which range sharply upwards) are: camera . . . around $30; color film . . . around $3; projector . . . around $60; screen . . . around $10. All 8mm equipment is less expensive than 16mm size.

Cases of all sorts are mighty handy accessories for every type of camera fan. There are camera cases and gadget bags; filter and light meter cases, negative file cases, slide and stereo slide drawer files; cases for lighting and accessory equipment; cases for pictures (they call 'em albums) and . . . a movie titler case which reads: "A Merry Photographic Christmas to You All" . . . with which I rest my case.

DECORATED HOME SPREADS CHEER

There is nothing worse than a dreary home during the Christmas season. If you do not have a gay tree, at least have some of the Christmas symbols around your house—the manger, stars, choralers, candles, poinsettia plants, holly, mistletoe and wreaths may help message the happy spirit of Christmas.

SERVE TASTY TREAT FOR NEW YEAR EVE PARTY

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A glamorous party dish for at-home celebrations on New Year's Eve! Something that looks and tastes elegant and can be prepared ahead! Something different.

That's a big order, Ladies, but this Party Sandwich Loaf fills the bill. The base for it is a delicious caraway quick bread made with rolled oats; its fillings have piquant flavor. The bread should be made the day before it is served, so it will slice well; a handy "must" that means you get part of your party-food work done ahead, ahead.

The day of the party, slicing the loaf lengthwise and assembling it with the alternating layers of fillings is quick and easy to do. Softened cream cheese frosts the loaf. If you want to be extra fancy, the top frosting edge may be outlined in cream cheese tinted a soft green. Preserved kumquat halves form the flower and tinted cream cheese makes the stem. A garnish of kumquats stuffed with cream cheese adds a last party touch.

Party Sandwich Loaf

Ingredients: Two 8-ounce packages cream cheese, ½ cup drained canned crushed pineapple, 2 cups ham salad, 1 loaf Caraway Bread.

Method: Soften the cream cheese in a bowl and mix with a little pineapple juice until the cheese is easy to spread. Measure about 1 cup of this cheese mixture into a separate bowl; stir the crushed pineapple into it. (The remaining cheese mixture is for frosting the loaf.) To assemble the loaf, first trim top of loaf. Then turn the loaf on its side and cut it lengthwise into 4 slices. Spread the slices with butter, if desired. Next spread the bottom slice with 1 cup of ham salad (made according to your favorite recipe). Place second slice on top, sandwich fashion. Spread this slice with pineapple and cream cheese mixture. Cover with third slice of bread. Spread this slice with remaining cup of ham salad; lay last slice of bread on top. Place on a serving platter and frost with cream cheese; decorate top with tinted cream cheese and kumquat halves, if desired. Refrigerate until ready to serve. Makes 8 to 10 slices.

Caraway Bread

Ingredients: 2 cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 egg (beaten), 1½ cups milk, 1 cup rolled oats (uncooked quick or old-fashioned), 2 tablespoons caraway seed, ¼ cup shortening (melted).

Method: Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into bowl. Add egg and milk all at once and stir lightly until ingredients are dampened. Fold in rolled oats, caraway seed and shortening. Pour into waxed paper-lined loaf pan (1-pound size). Bake in moderate (350F) oven for 55 minutes to 1 hour. Remove from pan immediately and cool thoroughly. For easy slicing, store in bread box one day before using.

WEATHERPROOF spotlights and floodlights add cheer. Here Santa Claus casts a big colored shadow on the house.

LIGHTED TREE OUTDOORS SAYS "MERRY XMAS"

A lighted outdoor Christmas tree is probably the most popular among home decorations for the holiday season, but many other striking ideas can be worked out with a little thought and planning.

Lighted windows, decorated doorways, cutout figures of Santa Claus and carol singers in the yard, on the porch, on the chimney or on the roof, lighted stars and wreaths, giant candles, festoons of colored lights under the eaves or along gable ends are some of the keys you can use to exercise your own ingenuity.

Modern weatherproof lighting equipment makes it possible to place spotlights and floodlights beneath shrubbery and other places where the lamp itself will be hidden while only the beam is visible. Colored caps for such lights clamp over the lens.

Lighting engineers for General Electric have worked out many practical "do-it-yourself" ideas for the home owner who plans temporary outdoor Christmas decorations. And these experts suggest a minimum of rules and "don'ts"

Concerning floodlighting, about the only common sense rule laid down is when lamps are aimed at a decorated doorway place them off to one side to avoid "blinding" persons going in or out of the door.

SWEATER IS NICE XMAS GIFT

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

A sure-fire gift hit for any girl is a pretty Christmas sweater with a set of removable glitter decorations.

Now available at ten-cent stores and notion counters all over the country are packages of sweater trimmings including braids, colored beads, sequins and pearls, so that you can choose your colors and create your own designs.

Instead of sewing the trimmings to the sweater, it's smarter and more practical to work out the design on a strip of thin buckram, so that it can be basted or pinned to the sweater and removed in a jiffy. This makes it possible to wear plain in the daytime or dress it up with glitter for evening.

Trimmings can be collars, necklace-like bands or a strip clear down the front. Cut your pattern first from paper, then transfer it to the buckram. One of the simplest and most effective trimmings is a little bejeweled collar that ties on with narrow velvet ribbons. This is easy to make by sewing pearl beads, colored sequins, gold braid or brilliants to your buckram collar pattern, in any design you choose.

For a girl who is handy with a needle, a welcome gift might be a sweater and an assortment of packaged trimmings from which she can work out several different sets of decorations, in her favorite designs.

Removable decorations also mean that the sweater can be washed. To keep sweaters new and fluffy looking, they should be washed frequently says Winifred S. Carter, director of household information service for a leading coap company (Proctor and Gamble). She advises using cool water, mild suds and as little as possible rubbing ans squeezing

Rinse water should should also be cool. After gentle rinsing, lift the sweater out of the water and squeeze between the hands to remove excess moisture. Roll it in a towel to blot up the rest of the water, then lay sweater on a dry towel, pat it gently into shape and leave on a flat surface to dry.

PICK A BOOK THAT PLEASES FOR XMAS GIFT

By W. G. ROGERS

The best way to pick a book for a fellow is to pick the fellow first. And if it's for a girl, pick her first, too.

A book is one of the trickiest gifts. In general, almost any book will be welcomed by almost anyone, for people love to have books around if only because colorful dust jackets liven up a shelf. But in particular, a book can do you the good turn, or the ill turn, of telling on you, the giver — tell what you are like, what you do like.

If you are not well acquainted with the person to whom the book is going, select one to meet this problem. There are the books on impersonal subjects and with an impersonal point of view. They are the books that do not betray you.

Such books, for instance, are volumes of photographs, histories of the automobile, of the train, views of Scandinavia, of France, reproductions of great paintings sometimes with a popular foreword, sometimes a scholarly.

If you're getting an art book for your maiden aunt, you may want one without too many nudes; your bachelor uncle, however, might have different tastes. Aside from such considerations, this sort of book is a safe and sure bet. It will be enjoyed. You will be thanked. It will be pointed out to callers.

Chose Favorite Subject

It's harder to pick a book for someone you know, but in a way it's easier, too. You know what he likes. You know your father is interested in literature on the Civil War, or your mother in historical romances. Or in the opposite direction, you know the boy wants to be an airplane pilot, and the girl hopes to become a nurse.

Then comes the job of running down a worthwhile book in any one of these fields. You can read the critics, listen to the bookstore clerk, read the jacket, or even quickly thumb through the book itself. The only sure way is to read the whole book. That's one good thing about giving it: You have the chance to read it, too.

For your friend, you have to be more careful. You don't know him as well as you know a relative. Is he the kind of person who longs to be in the swim? Pick something from a best-seller list.

One final word: Don't let all this advice discourage you. Think of the number of neckties you get at Christmas, or give, that you wouldn't be caught dead with. You thank the donor, and thank him in earnest, too. Then the day after Christmas you hurry back to the store and exchange it.

You may do likewise with a book, and it's still a book given and received.

Avoid A Leaky Roof, Place Santa On Saddle

Don't punch nail holes through your shingles and make your roof leak in order to mount a cutout of Santa and his reindeer on the ridge of your roof. Just mount the cutout on a saddle designed to fit the angle of the ridge. Weight the saddle with small sandbags and anchor the cutout against the wind with guy wires. It is better to bring the guy wires all the way down under the eaves than to use screw eyes in the roof.

Make the saddle legs twice as long as the cutout is high. Use 1 by 2 or 2 by 4 lumber for the saddle.

OFFER TIPS ON HOW TO SELECT GREETING CARD

Do you find selecting Christmas cards a big problem?

One rule of thumb can be to express your own personality in the cards.

If you are partial to any Christmas symbol besides the truly religious cards, say poinsettias, carolers, candles, holly or winter scenes, by all means select it, year after year if you like. That's the advice of Steve Shannon, managing director of the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers. Says he:

"I'm always amazed that some people make hard work out of selecting Christmas cards. Actually with all the variety available, it should be a simple matter."

Shannon suggests making your 1953 Christmas card easier by observing these rules:

1. Bring your address book up to date as soon as possible. Check full name, street and number, city, zone, and state. When this is done you'll also know the quantity of cards needed.

2. Break your list down into two or three groups—friends and business acquaintances, relatives and members of your family. Children might make up a third group.

Personalized Cards

3. Select your card with care particularly if it is a personalized one on which the signature is to be imprinted or engraved. You can't change your mind after that is done. Choose a card you like whether it is Santa or another. Christmas commemorates the Birth of Christ and more people are turning to the truly reverent type of card, more befitting Christmas than any other.

4. Among married couples, the correct custom is for the one signing the card to put her or his name last. When cards are imprinted or engraved the signature should begin with the wife's name. If there are children, Dad's name comes first with the youngsters listed according to age.

5. It is perfectly proper to write a little note on a card. Return addresses and Christmas seals may be added to the envelope.

6. Give the postmaster a break by mailing cards early, using the proper amount of stamps. If postage is first class your card will be sorted and delivered first, and forwarded or returned if necessary.

CHRISTMAS IS MERRIER when Santa leaves a new television console at the living room tree for all the family to enjoy.

LET 'EM EAT CAKE

Christmas is the ideal time for plum pudding and fruit cake. So here's hoping Mom will have plenty on hand to last her through the Yuletide season.

DECORATE FRUIT CAKE

Slices of gumdrops or candied fruits and citron make holiday fruit cake look pretty when you arrange these decorations on the cake to look like holly leaves and berries. If you have made your cake well ahead of time, and are planning to decorate them after storing, dip the cut side of the gumdrops or candied fruits and citron into hot heavy sugar syrup and press onto the top in the desired design.

You never looked LOVELIER At Christmastime!

HOBBY HORSE IS IDEAL GIFT FOR YOUNGSTER

Your young hero-worshippers of the fast riding, quick-on-the-draw westerners will welcome the opportunity to work off some of the excess excitement of Christmas morning with a lively horseback ride around the living room.

Here's an idea for a steed worked out for the home workshop by the Delta power tool division of Rockwell Manufacturing Co. It involves a minimum of time and materials—and saves on oats.

This sturdy hobby horse is made of wood, with metal swings. Here are the materials required for this limber, lumber steed:

Head: 1 piece of white pine or spruce, 2 x 12½ x 18 inches.

Body: 2 pieces of white pine or spruce, 2 x 8 x 22 inches, and one piece 2 x 8 x 14.

Tail: 1 piece of white pine or spruce, 4 x 4 x 8 inches.

Legs: 4 pieces of oak, maple or ash, 1¼ x 3 x 15 inches.

Ties: 2 pieces of oak, maple or ash, ¾ x 3 x 28½ inches.

Top Rail: 1 piece white pine or spruce, ⅞ x 2¾ x 26 inches.

Posts: 2 pieces of white pine or spruce, 2½ x 2½ x 8½ inches.

Bottom Rail: 1 piece of white pine or spruce, ⅞ x 3 x 31½ inches.

Cross Rails: 2 pieces white pine or spruce, ⅞ x 3 x 18 inches.

Step: 1 piece of white pine or spruce, ¾ x 6 x 11¼ nches.

Swings: 2 pieces of 5/16 inch iron, 23 inches long.

Bearings: 1 piece ¼ inch pipe, 10 inches long.

Hangers: Sheet iron no. 16x3x10.

The drawings show the construction details, but one or two additional points should be noted. The holes in the body to take the legs require careful setting-out and drilling with the use of a guide block to insure a good fit. The swings are 5/16 inch diameter iron or steel rods. Bearings consist of ¼ inch pipe, which makes a good working fit for the 5/16 inch swings. The pipe should be brazed to hangers bent from heavy sheet metal. On the leg ties, bearings can consist of a short nipple set in the wood and capped on either side with a lock nut instead of the form shown in these drawings.

But, in either case, the ends of the swings must be peined or otherwise firmly secure to retain their position.

Construction, as shown, is simple even for a comparative beginner in the workshop. And, after a few hours you'll be able to guarantee that this horse will run in the Christmas Derby.

When Ty Cobb was 41 years old he batted .357 for the Philadelphia Athletics.

CHILDREN make Christmas merrier by cutting their own cardboard letters, coating them with thick soap suds.

PICK RECORDS WITH CAUTION

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

There are two general classifications of phonograph records, long-hair and low-brow, and in selecting a gift you pick the one that fits the person you're giving to.

More and more every year the big companies, and the others as well, are making available not just the small disk with seven or eight minutes of music on it, but the long-playing disk with as much as an hour of music, or the album that runs on so long you can't get it in between your dinnertime and your neighbors' bedtime.

Musical comedies are put on records, either the "highlights" or the whole, and so are opera and symphony.

For the man with the Broadway tastes, popular music is the essential selection. For the man who likes to go to the Metropolitan Opera or to Carnegie Hall, you choose the more serious work, maybe a classic, maybe a modern composition.

New lists are long and impressive, packed with the names of the best performers and interpreters, and the greatest composers in the history of music.

There are also some new works by the younger men, and they merit your consideration. They don't get onto records so often as their elders, but new music is as important as old and might mark you as an especially discriminating giver.

REMEMBER YOUR DATE

Even the casual date in your life should have a little something if you plan to see him during the Christmas season. An attractive handkerchief or tie are in excellent taste and will be well appreciated by the average man. Furthermore your thoughtfulness will boost your stock with him.

EXPECT BEST XMAS SHOPPING IN MANY YEARS

This is the biggest Christmas shopping season in history.

Christmas Club services at the banks again are pouring more than a billion dollars into the retail market.

A year ago stores had the best sales ever known and this year "even the more conservative retailers," according to Business Week, anticipate a volume as great, while some estimate as much as a 10 per cent increase over a year ago.

The reason? "City after city," Business Week observed, "reports employment high, liquid savings up from last year, quality of merchandise improved without rise in prices—in all, an orderly stage setting for a great gift-buying splurge."

Urge Early Shopping

Although Christmas Week this year will have one more selling day than last year, the smart shopper will do his Christmas shopping early, avoid the last minute rush and crush, and with the mails running as they have been recently, he will mail early, or send gifts by express.

The importance of shopping early has been underlined by a study of when most retail items are purchased. The Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association has found that more purchases are made in November and December in almost every line.

More sportshirts are bought in the last two months of the year than in June. More shoes are bought in December than in any other month. Almost twice as much luggage is bought in December than in any other month.

Home furnishings, men's and boys' wear, infants' wear, sporting goods, cameras, and all of things that appeal to women reach their peak sales in the Christmas shopping season.

The post-war baby boom is one factor for this big record. The do-it-yourself hobby boom is another.

This is the time to shop.

The fall migrations of eagles and egrets may take them north instead of south until winter turns them back.

DIVERSIFIED farming means a bubble bath for kiddies who get a silo full of soap. Empty silo can be hauled on toy train to toy farm.

PRESERVE YULE FUN WITH NEW TAPE RECORDER

Would you like to preserve the sounds of your children's voices when they find what Santa leaves for them under the Christmas tree this year?

You can do it with a tape recorder.

This versatile device will let you hear how you sound to others. It will store six hours of symphonic music in the space occupied by one book on your library shelf.

A big advantage of this type of recording is that the quality or fidelity of the tone never wears out, yet because the recording process is magnetic, the sound can be "erased" and thousands of recordings can be made on the same tape without loss in fidelity.

Manufacturers of tape recorders say that these devices already are in use in more than half a million homes. They are recording everything from party fun to evidence for court action. They are used by camera fans to turn silent home movies into talkies. Students use them to practice recitations. Business men polish up speeches and sales talks by recordings.

Easily Edited

Tape manufactured by the makers of the popular cellulose sealing tape can be edited with a pair of scissors and spliced again in a continuous track with special splicing tape. In this way you can take out what you didn't intend to say.

People with tape recorders often use the "erasable" magnetic tape for voice correspondence with friends and relatives in far off places. These talking letters can be erased after being listened to, and a reply can be dictated on the same tape.

A 600-foot reel of tape, which will hold up to two hours of recording, costs about $3.50. Some two dozen manufacturers are marketing recorders that vary in price from around $80 to some $400.

Migrating birds usually remain within 3,000 feet of the ground.

PERFUMES ARE USUALLY LAST MINUTE GIFTS

The Associated Press

Perfume if often the gift choice of the last-minute Christmas shopper, casual friend, bewildered husband.

It is a sure-fire hit with any woman—if the scent appeals. If it doesn't—she might just as well have been presented with a jar of branch water.

The idea then is to select a fragrance that will meet with the approval of the recipient and if possible to send her into ecstasies. You can't do it by dashing up to a sales counter and asking for "a good bottle of perfume" or "the best perfume you sell" or "a nice fragrance for a married woman." Perfume is too expensive to be a grab bag purchase.

There are many factors to be considered for this all-important selection. Here are some to keep in mind:

1. The safest idea for ascertaining her favorite brand is to ask her or have someone else ask her. If you want to surprise her you'll need to be subtle in gathering your information. You might say: "A girl who sat next to me at lunch was wearing that perfume you used to be crazy about. What was it again?" (But she'll probably be suspicious anyway.)

Select Favored Scent

2. If you only have a small sum to spend, don't try to get the biggest bottle for that amount, unless you know it is a good buy. Select the scent she'll like, then buy your dollar quota of it.

3. A woman usually wears perfume to please the man in her life. So lacking any other yardstick in making your selection, choose a scent you like. Chances are if it pleases you, it will please her. But take the trouble to make a fair appraisal. Don't ask the sales girl to give you a whiff of one scent and then settle for that.

4. Keep her type in mind. Little girls are likely to prefer the more subtle scents. Big girls may go in for the more exotic fragrances. A light aroma is the best choice for any girl when in doubt.

5. Be sure to choose your perfume at a reliable store where an exchange might be made if necessary.

6. Another key to scents preference might be her favorite flowers. If she is partial to roses, carnations, gardenias, lilacs, lily of the valley, she'd probably adore the flower bottled for her dressing table.

7. If she is a perfume collector she'll adore a new scent, preferably in an exquisite bottle.

MAKE A CAKE WITHOUT OVEN

A fruit cake that never sees the oven! Rich and moist, chockful of fruit and nuts, it's easily prepared and stores indefinitely under refrigeration. Wonderful to have on hand to serve to holiday guests, to wrap gaily and give to friends, this sweet concoction is perfect for modern cooks who like to make their own desserts and yet save time and labor. Here's the recipe:

Ingredients: 1 pound regular or sugar-honey graham crackers (finely rolled), ½ pound ginger snaps (finely rolled), ½ teaspoon ground cloves, ½ teaspoon ground cinnamon, ½ teaspoon ground allspice, ¼ pound pitted dates (chopped), ¼ pound figs (chopped), ½ pound candied mixed fruits (diced), 1 pound seedless raisins, 1 pound (not licorice) gumdrops (chopped), 1 pound shelled nutmeats (chopped), ½ cup dark corn syrup, ¾ cup orange juice

Method: Mix graham cracker and ginger snap crumbs, cloves, cinnamon and allspice; blend well. Mix in thoroughly dates, figs, candied fruit, raisins, gumdrops and nutmeats. Blend in corn syrup and orange juice until all ingredients are thoroughly mixed. Line 1-pound coffee or wafer or shortening tins with aluminum foil. Pack fruit cake mixture in tightly. Cover. Makes 3 to 4 tins. To serve, slice very thin.

Note: This mixture will store several months at room temperature and indefinitely under refrigeration.

When Ted Williams of the Red Sox hit a home run into the upper deck at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium on Aug. 30 it marked the first time it had been done this season. Then Ted hit one in the same spot the next day.

CHRISTMAS TIP: VARIED TOOLS POPULAR GIFTS

By ANDREW C. LANG

It doesn't take a Nostradamus to predict that sales of tools and workshop gadgets to the relatives and friends of home handymen will be up in the high millions this Christmas season.

There is one thing the trend to home repair and construction has done. It has made the task of the gift-givers a lot easier. Uncle John may have enough ties and shirts, but if he's a workshop enthusiast, he never has enough tools. There are so many "Do It Yourself" tools and products on the market that everybody in his family could give Uncle John one of them every Christmas for the next 20 years without duplication.

The Douglas Fir Plywood Association, which supplies two-thirds of the nation's plywood, has launched a new program for the Christmas season. It is putting out pre-cut materials that can be put together by the purchaser at home. Among the projects is a structure for teenagers, called "The Rocket Clubhouse." It's put together with 4 x 8-foot plywood panels, 2 x 2s and various kinds of fasteners. Pre-cut materials also are available for such things as a child's desk, a doll house with a carport and "a flying saucer that seats two," whatever that is.

Tool Packages

Stanley Tools of New Britain, Conn., has come out with 21 Christmas packages, each containing various assortments of hammers, braces, planes, chisels, screwdrivers and what nots. Their big holiday baby is called the "Do It Yourself" set, with a knotty pine cabinet and a perforated Masonite backing with special clips to hang the tools. It holds 24 items, including that "must" for the handyman who ventures into the power tool field, a quarter-inch electric drill with accessories.

The price range for Christmas gifts for the workshop faddist starts with practically nothing and moves up into the hundreds of dollars quite easily. For the average purse, the variety is endless. If father has an electric drill, you can always buy him one or more accessories, because no matter how many he has, he doesn't have them all. There's a new one out almost every week.

There are power table saws, bandsaws, jigsaws, drill presses and lathes for the guy who likes to have electricity do some of the work for him. Some of these cost $20, some $200, but the range between $50 and $100 will bring a power tool able to handle almost any project.

Combination Outfits

And for you gift - givers who don't know about such things remember to buy a good motor for the tool, unless you want Pop to stand off and admire your gift without being able to use it. If you can afford it, look over some of the combination tool outfits. Some years ago there was only one such combination on the market. It's still a big seller, but several other companies are putting out combinations with different varieties of tools.

Accessories for all power tools are almost endless. There are literally thousands of them available. Should you be the type who quails at the thought of buying a gift that isn't needed, talk it over with the do-it-yourselfer. He's sure to want something he has needed for a long time but just hasn't gotten around to buy it.

It isn't necessary to spend big money to get a handyman a Christmas present. A new hammer may delight him more than a shirt. A set of drills will give him more pleasure than a couple of ties—and you don't have to worry about getting the right color. For the kiddie who wants to make a hit with the old man and yet not use up two months' allowance, there are such things as screwdrivers, nail sets, brad awls, sandpaper kits, folding rules and about 6,000 other pieces of workshop equipment that can be bought for a dollar or less.

The slogan of the "Do It Yourself" might very well be "From Santa's Workshop To Your Own."

LITTLE SIS STUFF ... Her very own toilet water and atomizer in a scent especially concocted for little ladies. (Helene Pearl Inc.)

How To Enlarge Your Own Pictures

If you can't draw, but know how to measure, you can enlarge any picture or pattern by tracing it on lightweight gridded graph paper.

A small picture can be traced on paper gridded at 8 to the inch. If you want to make this 4 times as large, rule off a large sheet in half-inch squares. In each half-inch square draw the lines which appear in the corresponding smaller square on the eighth-inch graph paper. A large sheet of wrapping paper will give you enough lee way to enlarge the original eight times or more.

The finished pattern, retaining all proportions, can then be cut out or traced on hardboard or waterproof plywood. Use exterior weatherproof paint for finishing details.

Ancient Rome built a road system that stretched from northern Scotland to the Euphrates River in Asis minor. Parts of it are still in use.

MAKE YOUR OWN HARD SAUCE FOR XMAS PUDDING

Be a smart hostess! Save yourself work and use one of the scrumptious canned fig or plum puddings for your holiday dinner. But give your ready-prepared dessert home-kitchen glamor treatment.

So easy to do, too! Whip up a batch of hard sauce and roll it into beguiling small snowmen, then add eyes, nose, mouth, pipe and buttons of whole cloves.

Top your snowman's head with a jaunty beret of chocolate; or go high hat and use a tall gumdrop, or several candies put together with a little hard sauce, for headgear.

Hard Sauce Snowmen

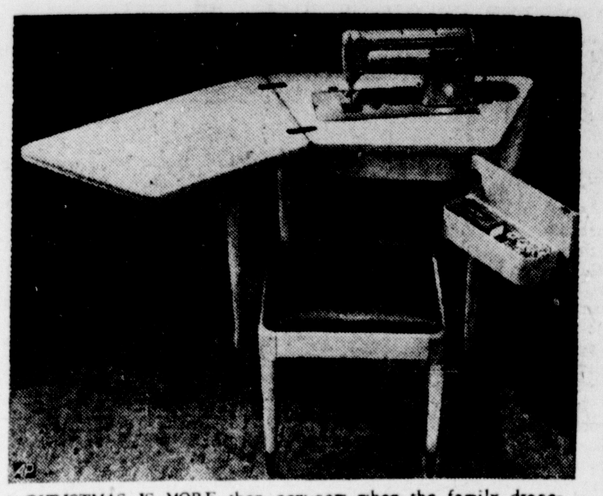
Fun? Of course, and your family and guests will love this sweet ending. Here are detailed directions.

Ingredients: ⅓ cup butter or margarine (softened), 1 cup sifted confectioner's sugar, ¼ teaspoon vanilla.

Method: Cream butter. Add sugar gradually, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla; beat until light and fluffy. Chill for several hours. Make 6 balls about ¾ inch in diameter and 6 balls 1¼ inches in diameter. Place small balls on top of large ones to make snowmen. Use whole cloves to make eyes, nose, mouth, pipe and buttons. Use small round candies for hats. For high hat put several candies together with a bit of hard sauce. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Makes 6 snowmen.

GO TO CHURCH ON CHRISTMAS

If the true spirit of Christmas is observed all members of the family will go to church. What is the point of celebrating the day if church services are skipped? after all if you do not recognize that this day commemorates the birth of Christ, then why should the day be celebrated as a holiday?



CHRISTMAS IS MORE than sew-sew when the family dressmaker gets a new sewing machine like this. The spinet cabinet was developed to control the operator's posture and minimize fatigue. It's a Loewy design, with stool for under $350.

BRIGHT EYES ADD GLAMOR

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Holiday glamor begins with sparkling eyes. Your pretty orbs will reveal innermost joys as you unwrap that special gift, note the dazzling splendor of a Christmas tree and revel in the spiritual meaning of the Yuletide season.

Your glistening eyes may be emphasized by proper application of eye makeup. But this should be applied with a deft hand so that even if makeup is noted it is not unpleasant to look upon. Here are some suggestions offered by eye experts which should prove helpful to neophyte and experienced makeup experts:

1. When blending eye shadow start at the center of your lids and fade it upward and outward to the brows. Try several shades until you find the one that deepens the color of your eyes, makes the whites clearer, the complexion brighter.

2. A thin line at the base of upper and lower lids from inner to outer corners may be extended a quarter-of-an-inch at the outer corners. Or make tiny dots between the roots of the lashes instead of drawing one continuous line.

3. Apply pencil in feather-like strokes to brow hairs, not to skin unless brows are very sparse. Two shades of pencil gives a natural effect, blend it in lightly with your finger tip.

4. Apply mascara with a not-too-wet brush, beginning at base of lashes and swooping upward. After lashes dry, a clean dry brush should be used to separate hairs and remove surplus mascara. Apply another coat of mascara and wait a little longer for it to dry. Go over it with a clean dry brush.

Youngsters Enjoy Thrilling Films

What little youngster wouldn't be delighted with a gift of his very-own motion pictures?

These are handy to have during the Yuletide season, too, if there is a party planned. No matter whether Dad's projector is 8 or 16 mm., there is a delightful assortment of films available, ranging from fairy tales, westerns and comedies to novelty animal subjects—all to please the most discriminating small-fry.

Adult audiences will enjoy the toddlers' matinee also, perhaps, whether Woody Woodpecker or Andy Panda are the stars of the moment.

Old-time favorites like Tom Mix and W. C. Fields are available in thrillers to cheer the hearts of any audience.

Christmas Cupcakes

The small fry in your family will love their own Christmas cupcakes. Frost the small cakes with green icing and put a red candle in the center of each. For further decoration, put a few tiny cinnamon candies around each candle.

Homemade Pipe Rack Not A Difficult Job

The pipe smoker who arises on Christmas morning to find he has been given his seventeenth cigarette lighter—but no pipe rack, can avoid that letdown feeling this year by spending a couple of hours in his home workshop.

It is easy to make a neat, convenient parking place for six of your best briars.

Most of the work in this unit is conventional pattern routing, using a round nose router bit. A tobacco can with wood lid can serve as the humidor, or this part of the project can be turned completely in wood. Round nose router bits can be purchased for this style of work or a regular square nose bit can be ground to shape.

Routing is done in the usual manner, using a plywood pattern nailed to the work as a guide. The upper portion of the rack should be turned on the lathe and then band sawed.

AN OUTDOOR MAN WOULD LIKE THESE

You'll make a hit with the sportsman at Christmas if you give him a gift that is close to his heart. Hand-tied flies, tins of tennis balls, golf balls, an order for golf shoes, new fishing line, a special fishing rod, ski wax, ice skates are just a few of the possibilities for his stocking.

MANY TOYS ARE USEFUL THINGS

Associated Press Woman's Editor

Mom and pop are expected to shell out close to a billion dollars for toys this Christmas.

But they may expect some return for this all-time record investment in the form of household skills and career training for the small fry. This year toys must have a purpose. And that purpose is to teach the younger generation how to repair the plumbing, fix the family car, whip up a cake, clean up the living room, stitch up a wardrobe and give Mom a new hairdo.

The vocational trend in toys reaches a new high in Santa's 1953 pack, which is estimated at $900 million by Robert B. M. Barton, president of the Toy Manufacturers' Association of the U.S.A.

Typical of the new era of purposeful toys are the following: a plumber's kit with 35 tools; kits for tire-changing, lawn care and house painting; miniature TV repair trucks complete with tools and cathode tubes; a shoe shine box that doubles as a bank; a conductor's kit complete with tickets, punch and whistle; a fiberboard super-market with miniature brand-name goods; indoor gardening sets; house of cleaning equipment including mop and pail, all housed in a cabinet; a cake-baking set based on brand-name mixes and frostings; dolls with cosmetics kits and permanent wave equipment.

Good news for parents is that toy prices for 1953 are the same or in some cases a little lower than last year.

Trim Your Table For Xmas Dinner

There are many charming ideas for Christmas table centerpieces if you will just give a little thought to it. An over-sized brandy glass may be filled with pine cones, fir branches and Christmas ornaments, placed on a small mirror and flanked by two candles for a pretty effect.

If you have a small collection of little angels, choralers or other Christmas symbols line them up in the center of the table and surround them with pieces of pine. Some of these figures may be purchased for a few cents in dime or department stores.

REMEMBER TO THANK SANTA FOR GIFTS

Anyone who has taken the time to select and wrap a Christmas gift for you certainly deserves a note of thanks. And, to be proper, it should be handwritten, instead of one of the printed thank-you cards. Your note should mention the gift, and express your heartfelt appreciation.

PROFESSIONAL TEAM . . . Visiting nurse "convertible" includes first-aid kit, official cap and apron. Extra wheels may be removed later, leaving a two-wheel bike.

How To Make Snow Man Wrapping Paper

Instructions: Cut a 15-inch square of white crepe paper and place green glass vase with fluted top in center of paper. Gather the paper up around the neck of the vase, press the folds into place and tie.

Place a Christmas ball in the top of the vase over the powder puffs (or a couple of handkerchiefs if you prefer). Bring ends of the crepe paper over the Christmas ball, gather the paper at the top and tie. Trim off excess paper.

Use gummed dots for the features and buttons.

For the scarf, cut a strip of red crepe paper 12 by 2 inches wide with the grain. Cut both ends, fringe and tie around the neck.

The hat is made with a 3½ by 6-inch piece of black crepe paper cut with the grain. Gather the paper along one edge and tie. Turn the gathered end inside; overlap the short ends and paste the seam. Crease about 1 inch from the tied end, shaping crown. Stretch other end for brim and paste to head. Brush the hat with glue and sprinkle with silver wink.

Do Not Forget Pets On Christmas List

If you have a little bird, dog or cat, don't forget them at Christmas time. Pet stores have interesting items from catnip mice for Tabby to rubber pork chops for Fido. And for that little parakeet, why not get him a new little mirror, swing, bell, or perhaps a little piece of driftwood which may become a tree in his cage.

TREAT FOR THE KIDDIES

HOW TO MAKE SANTA'S SUIT

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

If Santa Claus is going to pass out the toys at your house Christmas morning, let's make him a real Santa.

The average Santa Claus suit bought in a toy department usually leaves much to be desired—and children are quick to detect the slightest flaw in the attire of jolly old Santa.

Here is where Mrs. Santa can come to the rescue by making a handsome and realistic Santa Claus suit at home. It's easy to do, with the help of a modern printed pattern, and can be made of sanforized red cotton flannel that can be washed and put away for next year.

The outfit pictured made by sewing center experts, who used washable white curtain fringe for the "fur," stitching it six rows wide on the coat and three rows wide on the cap. This is available in the drapery section of your favorite department store.

Buttons and belt buckles are available at the notion counter of your local sewing center. Straight machine stitching is used on most of the costume, but your buttonhole attachment will prove handy for making the wide buttonholes.

The suit should be cut large enough to accommodate a pillow at the midriff, to achieve a real Santa Claus silhouette. Add a curly white beard, and your home-grown Santa will preserve the illusions of the littlest skeptic.

Safe Ways To Use Electricity Outdoors

Weatherproof rubber extension cords of the heavy duty garage type and permanent outdoor type receptacles provide the best sources for exterior lighting current. However, any protected outlet, such as your porch light or garage light socket can also be used. Or you can tap current from indoor receptacles by raising a window slightly and fitting a board snugly under it. A hole is drilled in this board to accommodate your extension cord. The window can still be locked from the inside with a stick.

When you are preparing open-face pumpkin pie, make some extra pastry. Roll it thin and cut small Christmas trees out of it; bake the pastry trees until golden, then arrange over the top of the baked pie. Make sure you have one tree for each serving!

KIDDIES MAKE XMAS MERRY

Let children make Christmas decorations and they'll delight you with their ingeniousness. It will keep them occupied, too, while Mom goes about her Yuletide chores.

Snow-topped Christmas greetings are among the gayest items your offspring can produce. Just cover a working space with brown paper and let the children trace and cut large cardboard Merry Christmas letters—or other Yuletide greetings and messages of their own choosing.

The letters are then coated with drifts of thickly beaten soapsuds—using a spoon or rubber plate scraper. To make the "snow" combine soap with a small amount of water and whip with a rotary beater or electric mixer until it reaches a thick, meringue-like consistency. The beating may be done in a pitcher or deep bowl. When applied this mixture dries to a nice texture, although for greater depth, a second layer can be spread over the first after an hour or two.

Old buttons, sequins, or bugle beads may be used to decorate this handiwork. After the letters harden, they may be hung with tiny clothespins from a line strung along a wall, over an archway or above the fireplace.

This same soapsuds may be spread on the branches of a Christmas tree for a pretty effect, too.

Even if you don't have a fireplace, hang up the youngsters' Christmas stockings. Your offspring will be heartbroken if stockings and sugar plums are absent on Christmas morn. If you can't afford to fill them with little gifts and sweets, apples, oranges, nuts and hard candies are budget stuffers.

CANDY CANES EASILY MADE

Materials: A roll of doughnut shaped peppermint candies; white construction paper; red crepe paper, paste; four miniature Christmas balls; bead bluing.

(A) Cut a piece of white construction paper 3 by 2¾ inches.

(B) Cut four strips of red crepe paper 1½ inches with the grain by 3 inches long and cut into fringe 1 inch deep.

(C) Brush paste along 3-inch edges of the white construction paper and paste strip of fringe on. Paste second piece of fringe on top of the first.

(D) Pour one cup of bead-bluing into a small deep bowl, add ¼-cup of cold water and beat with an egg beater into creamy consistency. Brush this Christmas blue on the tips of the red fringe and allow to dry.

(E) Roll this decoration around a package of peppermints and paste.

(F) Cut a strip of red crepe paper ¼-inch wide with the grain and 12 inches long. Paste this at top of roll and spiral it around and around, stretching tightly and pasting it at the bottom.

Tie four small Christmas balls with a 5-inch piece of spoolwire, and twist the excess wire into a stem.

Insert the twisted end of the wire into the center of the roll of peppermints and bend the fringe out at the bottom.

Clever Paper Cone Makes Pastry Tube

Improvise a pastry tube for decorating Christmas cookies! Just make a cone out of a double thickness of waxed paper. Fasten the cone in place with a bit of cellulose tape or a pin. Then snip off the tip of the cone with a scissors to make a small opening. Pile confectioners' sugar frosting — tinted the shade you want — into the cone, and go to work.

The earth contains about 197 million square miles.

Select A Power Saw For All Cutting Jobs

Looking for a gift that will make merrier the Christmas of that handy man around the house? One that will revive his belief in Santa Claus? Then put an electric power saw in his stocking for that morning of Dec. 25.

You can buy a variety of power saws, portable or stationary, at a variety of prices. The main thing to keep in mind is to select a quality tool—one that is powered to do all the cutting jobs a power saw can do.

A good saw not only will cut wood, but can be equipped with carbide tipped blades or abrasive discs to cut metals, stone and composition materials.

One manufacturer (the Skil Corp.) offers a power saw package this Christmas season. It includes a portable saw, a saw table and a kit of attachments. You can take this tool to the job, whether that is on the roof, in the basement, garage or living room. Or, if you want to take the job to the tool, the saw is attached to its table, which becomes a tilting arbor bench tool for precision work —sawing, shaping, sanding.

Cheese, Cooked Ham Adds To Biscuit Taste

Hot biscuits always taste delicious with holiday punch. To make the biscuits extra savory, add a half cup of grated cheddar cheese or a half cup of chopped cooked ham to your standard recipe for rolled biscuits. Cut the biscuits doll-size, bake them and serve them piping hot.

PIPE AND SLIPPERS

Stuck for an idea for Dad? Why not a fireside ensemble of a lovely pipe and slippers. These can be bought in combination or separately.

Leftover Turkey

You can make a wonderful supper dish out of some of that leftover turkey. Just arrange slices of the cold bird on buttered toast; top with a hot tomato-cheese sauce and sprigs of parsley. Serve with lots of good strong coffee.

Christmas

Let us, in the humble spirit of the shepherds, find renewed inspiration in the message of Christmas.

Even as the Star guided the three wise men to Christ in Bethlehem, so may we find spiritual guidance in the age-old message of Christmas, along with renewed courage to work steadfastly for a world of peace and mutual understanding.

As brightly as the Star of Bethlehem on that Holy night, may the true spirit of Christmas shine in your heart at this holiday season and always.

On this joyful and triumphant day, let us refresh our souls with the angel's message . . . "on earth peace, good will toward men."

On this joyous occasion, our churches will ring with glorious Christmas music. We hope you and your family will come.

Christmas begins in our hearts. May its bright and shining message be a guiding beacon through all the days of our years.

May the true meaning of Christmas lift your heart with courage, and bring you and yours renewed spiritual strength for the new year.

On that blessed night, the world was hushed with wonder, and hope arose anew for all mankind . . . Christ the Saviour was born. Today, we pray for His guidance, that we may find peace in our hearts and renewed faith in a world in which men everywhere shall live in good will and understanding with one another.

As we pay homage to the birth of the Christ child, we humbly give thanks for the blessings bestowed upon us by His coming and the inspiration of His message of peace and good will.

Suggestions On How To Make Xmas Dinner Without Big Fuss

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A holiday dinner with all the traditional wonderful-tasting dishes—but prepared minus old-time fuss and bother—can be your good fortune. All you have to do is to use with finesse the canned and packaged foods, available at and suitable for this time of year.

Let's start with the turkey. Nowadays most markets have ready-to-cook birds so clean of pin feathers that you need give them only the briefest going-over before stuffing, trussing and roasting to perfection.

Even stuffing the turkey can be a cinch. Delicious herb-seasoned bread crumbs come in cellophane bags; combined with onion and celery that have been cooked in butter or margarine, and a little stock, they make a most delicious dressing.

Cranberry Sauce

Cranberry sauce for the turkey comes in whole or jellied style. For a delectable relish, mix the whole cranberry sauce with raisins (plumped in boiling water and drained) and diced candied orange rind or syrup-preserved ginger. Slice the jellied sauce in thin rounds, center each round with salted pecan halves, put them on a pretty white plate and ring them with water cress.

Fresh sweet or Irish potatoes may be baked in the oven with the turkey, of course; then all they need is a criss-cross cut on the top, a pat of butter, a generous sprinkling of paprika and a sprig of parsley to make them festive. Or you can use canned sweet or Irish potatoes—two of our best processed products. Mash the sweet potatoes with butter, brown sugar and lemon rind, mix with crushed drained pineapple, and spoon into a shallow baking dish and heat. The small canned Irish potatoes take to this treatment: roll them in melted butter or margarine mixed with lots of paprika, and heat and brown them at the end of the turkey's roasting period. Easy and so good!

Lots of good cooks wouldn't dream of having a holiday dinner without creamed onions — neither would they dream of peeling and cooking the onions. They've discovered that whole peeled boiled onions in handy jars or cans, drained and heated in a cream sauce, satisfy even epicures.

If you want the creamed onions to do double-duty, just mix them with a package of cooked drained frozen mixed vegetables, turn into a casserole, sprinkle with grated cheddar cheese and heat in the oven until bubbly.

Even salad greens come handily cleaned and packaged in cellophane bags; tossed with your favorite ready-bought dressing, they make a cool crisp course. For something special, add thin sweet onion rings and fresh orange slices to them, and serve with Roquefort dressing.

Chopped Apple

And so to dessert. One fine cook we know always adds fresh chopped apple to one of the packaged or canned mincemeats and then uses it for pies that taste just like the kind Mom used to make. Other good cooks say brandy flavoring added to the prepared mincemeat does the trick. Pumpkin comes canned, of course, all ready to put into a traditional baked or modern chiffon pie. Even cheddar cheese comes sliced nowadays, so easy to cut into neat squares, for tangy accompaniment to the pies.

Use Turkey Bones

After all the family and friends have had their fill of a divine dinner, even the turkey carcass can get some help from a couple of cans! Cover the turkey bones with water, add onion, carrot, celery, bay leaf, cloves, salt and pepper; simmer until you have a rich broth; strain and mix with condensed tomato soup and a small can of whole kernel corn (undrained). Correct the seasoning, add a pinch of sugar and one of dried basil, and you have a delightful homemade soup.

This recipe is one we usually give when holidays roll around—just because our taste-testers say made aids we've reminded you of, you may still want to prepare the stuffing for your turkey from scratch. So here's a brand-new recipe for parsley-flavored dressing that your holiday eaters are sure to enjoy:

Roast Turkey With Parsley Bread Stuffing

Ingredients: One 11-pound ready-to-cook turkey, ½ cup butter or margarine, ½ cup onion (chopped), 1 cup celery (chopped), 3 quarts dry ½-inch bread cubes, 2 cups chopped parsley (lightly packed), 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon thyme, ½ teaspoon pepper, 2 eggs (beaten).

Method: Rinse turkey in cold water and pat dry. Melt butter in a skillet, add onion and celery and cook lightly until tender. Pour over bread cubes, parsley, salt, thyme and pepper. Add eggs and mix well. Spoon stuffing into neck cavity, using enough to fill the skin so that turkey will look plump when served. Fold neck skin over and skewer it to back. Put the remaining stuffing into body. When body is filled, close the cavity to hold the stuffing in (either sew the skin together with heavy string or skewer it together and lace with heavy string). Skewer wings to body until they rest flat against the neck skin. Cross legs, tie securely with heavy string and fasten to tail. Grease skin thoroughly with melted shortening. Place turkey on rack in shallow pan. Insert a meat thermometer through the membrane between the first and second ribs, so that end reaches into center of stuffing. Roast uncovered in a slow (325F) oven until thermometer reaches 165F. Note: Chop the parsley (yes, you will need 2 cups) on a chopping board with a wide-blade cook's knife.

NEW THOUGHT FOR XMAS GIFT

A family Christmas present of a room air conditioner is not like selling ice cubes to Eskimos, especially if you recall the summer rush and long delays of the last two years.

Close to a million room air conditioners have been sold and installed this year. According to Cloud Wampler, president of the largest single producer of air conditioning equipment (Carrier), 800,000 room units were sold in the first nine months of the year and 75 per cent of them were installed in homes—only 25 per cent in offices, stores and elsewhere.

Careful Planning Urged

"Don't be misled into thinking that even the smaller room air conditioners are simply bought and plugged in like electric toasters," advises Wampler. "The truth is the best results are only obtained when you do some careful planning before you buy.

"It's one of those things you first talk over carefully with the family. Next, and just as important, you want to decide how you are going to install it. Thirdly, and this takes an expert, you should check the size needed and electrical requirements. One other point—don't forget to talk the matter over with your landlord, if you have one."

Reputable dealers make estimates on the minimum size room air conditioner needed for the space you select. You never gain anything by using a unit too large and it might save you $100 or more to have the dealer make a survey.

There are new units designed on the "installation-can-be-fun" idea. They fit almost flush with the windowsill. And you can utilize a lot of that home workshop talent in making a permanent installation.

GOLD ON THEM GUYS

Gold cummerbund and evening tie are being introduced for gentlemen just in time for Santa's sack. Guaranteed to make the dullest beau scintillating.

FOR MEN ONLY

And now the men will wear mink! Newest note on the male fashion front are imported capeskin gloves lined with wild mink—$45 a pair.

A sure-fire hit with any glamor girl is a permanent wave gift certificate. Be sure you select her favorite salon, however.

When Santa Claus Came To Visit His Uncle Noah

By CHARLES MERCER

Whenever anyone asks "What does Christmas mean to you?" I'm reminded of what Christmas meant to my great Uncle Noah. Since he is dead and unable to defend himself, it is now safe to tell what Christmas meant to him.

He was, to begin with, an irascible man. By that I mean he refused to drift with the tide of human events. He called it being independent. But the way my grandmother put it: "If you tell Noah to go north, he'll go south. If you want him to go south, just remotely suggest that he go north."

On St. Patrick's Day he'd wear an orange tie and on Orangeman's Day he'd wear a green. In his youth he was forcibly restrained from raising a Union Jack on the Fourth of July. In middle age he often wore a straw hat in winter.

You can readily see that Christmas would be a thorn in the side of such a man. He suffered nobly under its good spirit for about 50 years. Although he came from a devoutly religious family, he refused to enter a church. So the religious significance of Christmas was quite wasted on him. Grimly working out his years as an office manager for a railroad, he was filled with anguish by the annual throngs of holiday travelers. A bachelor, he knew no joy in buying gifts for wife or children.

Annual Celebration

Each Christmas for many years, however, he summoned the moral strength to go to my Grandmother's house for the annual family celebration. He would sit there, glumly chewing on a cigar, only aroused from his mournful meditation on the merriment when he could draw an unwary nephew or niece into argument.

Then, one Christmas about 20 years ago, he failed to appear at Grandma's. Eventually the story came out. This is what happened:

On Christmas Eve, Noah suddenly decided he was tired of going to Grandma's. He was disgusted with the whole ceremony of Christmas, its joy which he called "forced," its gifts which he called "commercialism." So he locked the door to his small apartment in the rooming house where he lived. He went to bed early and slept late into Christmas morning.

He cooked his own breakfast and sat down to read Voltaire, his favorite author, trying to shut out the sounds from downstairs where other roomers were exchanging gifts around the landlady's tree. Once someone knocked on his door, but he did not answer.

Grows More Restive

The day crept on and gradually Noah grew more and more restive and irritable. Again someone knocked, and this time Noah shouted, "Go away!"

But in a few minutes the knock was repeated and this time Noah angrily flung open the door. He faced a small, brown-haired, pleasant woman about 40 years old, who smiled at him and said:

"Good afternoon. I'm Agnes, the landlady's niece. I understand you're ill and I wondered if there was anything I could do."

"I'm not sick," said Noah.

She just smiled at him and said, "You don't look well to me."

"I'm fine!" roared Noah.

"Prove it," she said.

He gaped at her.

"If you're not sick, come downstairs and join the rest of us," Agnes said.

"I won't!"

Agnes looked at him steadily for a long time. Then she said gently, "Of course you will. Come along now or must I lead you by the hand?"

Then occurred the thing that no one, least of all Noah, ever could explain.

He quietly followed her downstairs. He had dinner with her and her aunt. In the course of the afternoon he learned that Agnes was a widow.

Then They Married

Everyone could easily understand what he saw in Agnes. But no one could fathom what she saw in him. Still, she must have seen something, for a couple of months later they were married.

They took a small apartment and several months later they adopted a small baby boy.

Christmas rolled around again. Agnes and the baby were invited to Grandma's with Noah, of course. Everyone watched him expectantly after they arrived. Yes, he'd changed. He was pleasant and smiling—but still rather quiet.

The gifts were opened amid a great babble. Finally, when everyone had opened his gifts, Agnes said she had one more for Noah. We watched breathlessly as he opened the package. The silence became oppressive as he slowly took out a summer straw hat.

Suddenly he threw back his head and roared with laughter. It was the most tremendous laugh we'd ever heard. It seemed to fill and shake the house.

Then he put on the straw hat and started to talk. He was the most talkative man I ever heard. He wore the straw hat to the table and kept it on and everyone agreed it was the merriest Christmas ever.

• • •

Late that night as we all left for our homes, several of us paused for Noah and Agnes. They came out the door into the snowy night. Gravely Noah handed the baby to Agnes. Taking off the straw hat, he kicked a hole in it and scaled it away in the snowy darkness. Then, shaking with laughter, he took the baby from Agnes and they walked off into the night.

GIVE HER PEARLS

If you're thinking of giving her jewelry, pearls are always desired by the girl who doesn't own a string.

String your Christmas cards around the room, over the mantle or pin to a screen next to the Christmas tree.

PUSH MOVE TO RESTORE CHRIST TO CHRISTMAS

DUBUQUE, Ia. (AP) — A movement to restore the Christ Child to His rightful place as the central figure of Christmas has become nation-wide. It began in 1948 when a group of mothers in Dubuque pledged themselves to erect Christmas cribs in their homes.

Last year more than 3,000 homes in Dubuque had nativity scenes as the focal point of Christmas decorations, and letters indicate that thousands who never had cribs plan them this Christmas. The movement also has taken hold commercially.

Mrs. Anthony Eberhardt, who organized the campaign, says stores across the nation will leave more room this year for appropriate religious symbols in Christmas displays.

First action of the Dubuque mothers came almost at the same time as a regional meeting of the Christian Mothers of Pittsburgh, Pa., who had practically the same idea.

Mrs. Eberhardt, a writer of short stories and articles, as well as of a novel that will be published in early December, began to write crib articles for religious publications and letters to editors of secular magazines.

Letters come in from all over the United States. Answering them keeps her busy the year around.

This year, scores of towns in Iowa will have outdoor religious displays, with all denominations joining to raise funds for them. Evanston, Ill., plans a great religious observance using crib figures. Large Chicago stores will use manger scenes. Milwaukee plans to better its 1952 record of 400 advertising billboards depicting the Nativity scene: 1,700 stores with religious displays or posters and the name of Christ in electric lights on large buildings, bridges and theater marquees.

In Minnesota, Vermont, Washington, Maine, Wyoming, Nevada, Georgia and nearly all the other states will be found cribs erected in parks or on the court house grounds—even on the sidewalks.

But the women who sponsor the idea emphasize cribs for the home. Their plan is simple, a three walled shelter with a floor of straw or evergreen tree branches and figures of the Nativity. The figures may be of plywood cut out with a jigsaw.

Cardboard boxes and cartons also make fine cribs, says Mrs. Eberhardt. Covered with cloth or artificial snow with a few evergreen sprigs here and there, they can be effective, she said. For the children's crib, even a shoebox could do. Figures of the Christ in the manger, Mary, Joseph, the Wise Men and sheep for the tiny crib can be purchased at any dime store.

Foods rich in protein get leathery when they are cooked at high temperatures, so keep the heat low when you are preparing dishes with eggs and cheese in them.

If you have a dress, skirt or stole that's trimmed with sequins, take extra care when pressing. Use only a moderately hot iron and work quickly, ironing on the wrong side of the material.

CANDY IS HANDY

It is a good idea to keep a few boxes of candy and lollipops on hand for that unexpected little or big guest who brings you a Christmas package at Yuletide.

There are no whale ships flying the American flag today says National Geographic Society.

FANCY CAPITAL PARTIES START SOCIAL SEASON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Champagne toasts in memory of a democratic election and a communist revolution were tossed off by socialites as the capital's official gala season was launched.

Bang-up parties also honored a covey of British stage stars. There was even a champagne and orchid party marking the opening of a hotel cocktail lounge, proceeds going to the Washington Heart Association.

The starting signal was given by the White House when President and Mrs. Eisenhower gave their dinner for the President's official family, the first in a series of formal white tie functions. Orchestra leader Fred Waring was also a guest at this six-course dinner, served with four wines on gold table service.

The toast proposed by Secretary of State Dulles reminded the President how a year ago he led the Republicans to victory. The President responded with: "I feel almost like bawling on my own shoulder." After the dinner Waring and his 43 Pennsylvanians offered some lively music, including some '52 campaign songs, in the crystal-chandeliered East Room.

Vodka was guzzled with the champagne at the Russian embassy's limestone structure on 16th Street, where some 900 guests were invited to help celebrate the 36th anniversary of the founding of the Soviet Union.

Most of the guests, who included a large representation from the diplomatic corps, the press, the curious and the usual flock of fellow travelers, were more interested in the capitalistic 20-foot long buffet tables, laden with everything from fresh, expensive caviar to whole turkeys and hams, than in saluting the Marxist ideology. The tables were picked clean by 7:30. Some of the snoopier guests noted the absence of any photographs of Premier Malenkov, but Ambassador Zaroubin explained he had one in his own office. There were three portraits, one of them life-sized, of the late Premier Stalin, however.

Weariest guests in town must have been the theatrical celebrities, Rex Harrisson and his wife, Lili Palmer, Beatrice Lillie and Reginald Gardiner, who were appearing here. Along with the Tyrone Powers, Anne Baxter and Raymond Massey, they were invited by several ambitious hostesses.

Tricky Shifts Are On New Bicycles

Special care must be taken of the new three-speed American bicycles, the makers warn those who will be getting them for Christmas. They say: Don't fiddle with the gear shift until the machine is in motion and then it is wise to stop pedaling for an instant when a shift is made. Don't lay your bicycle on its side, some of the controls may be damaged. Oil the machine once a month. Remember that your brakes are hand operated instead of pedal operated. Several American makers, putting this type of machine out in quantity for the first time this year, say that some foreign makes of this type have been used here but few Americans know how to care for them to get the most out of the three speeds.

DOGS

by Tom Farley

By TOM FARLEY

The Four Clowns

During all his 63 years Hughie Fitz has been kind to dogs. And he has found that it pays off. For during the past 30 years Fitz literally has been supported by his canines, much in the same manner that you and I feed and shelter our own dogs.

Fitz is a clown. He's known as The Famous Talking Clown and his three performing canines, Beauty, Patty and Midgy, are clowns too after the Fitz fashion, except that they do not keep up a running line of chatter.

And he talks and tells children's stories and jokes, Fitz puts his charges through some very intricate acts and paces to the utter delight of hundreds of children at private parties sponsored by such as the Rockefeller, Morgan, Whitney and Vanderbilt clans. Dressed as a clown himself, Fitz and his dolled-up beauties keep the children in an uproar for a solid hour.

At the end of a performance there is usually a question-and-answer session, at which the youngsters pop some tricky questions such as: "How do you teach Midgy to push a doll carriage?" Or "How do you teach Beauty to pretend she's asleep," or "Patty to turn a fast somersault?"

To general inquiries about care and training, Fitz has a rather effective standard answer: "Be kind to your dog, feed him properly and well, and he'll do almost anything for you." And Fitz practices what he preaches at his 59 West 76th Street home in New York City.

Faithful Service

When a human has been faithful to one job for several years, employers usually reward him with a gift or a celebration of some sort, and the occasion is written up in the newspapers. But, reading about Rags, a small dog who accompanied the postman on his rounds for fifteen years in the town of Haverstraw, N. Y., made us realize that public acclaim for faithful service by a dog is rare.

Postman John Simco refused to take Rags' years of devotion to duty for granted. From the time she was about nine months old, she started the mail route with him promptly at 10 a. m., meeting him at his pick-up box near the restaurant where she lived with her owner, Mr. Statler. She accompanied John until four in the afternoon, stopping traffic when she had to cross a busy corner, barking for him when he stopped too long to chat with people along the way.

One morning in October Rags was not at her post. John went to the restaurant to inquire about her and was told by Mr. Statler that Rags was being retired from duty for her own protection because of age and failing eyesight.

John continued his rounds alone that day, and by evening he had come to a decision. He wrote to Postmaster Summerfield in Washington, asking that some recognition be granted the faithful Rags. It came in the form of a letter of appreciation from Mr. Summerfield himself which John showed proudly to all of Rags' many human friends along the route.

Unlike the long-time human employe, Rags wouldn't have cared for any honor even if she could have understood it. For her faithfulness, like that of all dogs, resulted not from a wish to collect a weekly pay check, but from love of John Simco and all the friends she met every day.

Stamp News

BY SYD KRONISH
The Associated Press

AUSTRIAN postage stamps are helping reconstruct the Lutheran School in Vienna, set afire by the Nazis before they fled in April, 1945.

A special set of five semi-postals has been issued with the additional values on the stamps going to the reconstruction fund, reports Edwin Mueller.

The 70 groschen plus 15 g violet depicts the "Bummerhaus" at Steyr in Upper Austria where the oldest Protestant school was established by the Waldenses, a pre-Lutheran sect.

The 1 schilling plus 25 g dark blue bears a portrait of Johannes Kepler, famous astronomer who lectured at Lutheran schools from 1593 to 1626.

The 50 s plus 40 g red brown shows a copy of the first edition of the Lutheran Bible of 1534, now in the National Libary in Vienna.

The 40 s plus 60 g blue green portrays Theophil von Hansen, architect who built the school.

The 3 s plus 75 g dark violet depicts how the new school on the Karlsplatz in Vienna will appear after reconstruction.

NEW ZEALAND has issued two new stamps in its health series, reports the New York Stamp Co. The 1 pence green shows Boy Scouts camping in a field. The 1½ pence blue pictures Girl Scouts marching in a parade. The leader carries a Girl Scout flag.

THREE SPORTS stamps have been issued by Czechoslovakia. The 30 haleru shows a volleyball game. The 40 h depicts a motorcycle race. The 60 h reveals a woman javelin thrower in action.

ON NOV. 13 Demark will issue two new stamps in its series honoring places and events. It is called "Kingdom During 1,000 Years." The 15 ore shows the viking camp at Trelleborg. The 20 ore illustrates the church of Kalundborg.

* * *

FROM ICELAND comes word of five new adhesives issued to honor the famed Icelandic manuscripts. The 10 aurar shows the "Reykjabok," the manuscript telling of the saga of Burnt Njal. It was written about 1300 A.D. The 70 aurar shows another view of the same manuscript. The 1 krona illustrates the 15th Centurty translation of the Holy Bible. The 1.75 k has another view of the same. The 10 k depicts a corner of a page of a law manuscript written about 1363.

STAMPS NOTES . . . Switzerland has issued two new stamps showing its Alpine Postal Coaches. This set will replace the previously issued auto post office adhesive of 1937, re-issued in 1946 . . . Brazil has paid tribute to a national hero, Joe do Patricinio, by issuing a 60 centavos stamp commemorating the centenary of his birth .

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN

You can make some of your own Christmas gifts and charm the family with your ingenuity. But start early. A last minute rush will take the edge off your own holiday fun.

First make your gift list. But don't be too ambitious. Give to friends and family and if there is time, energy and cash — spread your gift cheer to others. Here are some suggestions:

FOR MOM . . . Crochet or knit a nice warm stole — either a colorful one for early summer or a dark one for drafty winter evenings. A white one might be threaded with metallic yarn for special evening glamor if Mom is the type who likes to gad about. If you don't have a favorite crochet or knit stitch, a local shop where you purchase yarn should be glad to furnish you with simple free directions.

FOR LITTLE SIS . . . Big brother should give you a hand with this project at the start. Take a small nail keg (12 to 14 inches high), remove one-half of one side of the keg to provide a cradle shape. Scrap wood may be glued or nailed to the bottom of the cradle to make small rockers.

Pad The Interior

Pad the interior of the cradle with cotton batting. Then line it with old plastic shower curtain material or sheeting. Either or both may be tinted with all-purpose dye to an attractive decorator color. Make a flounce of the same tinted sheeting and thumb-tack it to the cradle in draped folds. Put a ruffle of sheeting across the top. Little rosettes of ribbon may be added to make a doll bed any little girl will love.

FOR DAD . . . At the 10-cent store or department store you can find interesting glasses — cocktail, beer or highball glasses which Dad uses for special parties. Ordinary household twine in its natural color (or dyed) or raffia make interesting base decorations. For small glasses start up the glass about 1½ inches, larger glasses may be twine-wound 3 inches from the base.

Take ordinary household cement, apply it to starting point of twine or raffia to hold it in place, wind around glass applying more cement to twine if it shows a tendency to slip. Tuck end in at bottom row and anchor with cement. Spray clear plastic over twine or raffia for a glossy finish. If you dye either twine or raffia use an all-purpose dye for an all-over tinting job.

FOR BROTHER . . . Knitte socks are the only homemade things that will go over with most young gentlemen. They can be kept happy also by a subscription to a science magazine, tickets for a show or sports event, hobby books or games.

FOR TEACHER . . . A thoughtful gift for teacher, a favorite neighbor or your best pal's mother is a homemade Christmas wreath or spray for the door. For the wreath make a circle of 10-gauge wire (or use wire hanger formed into a circle). Attach Christmas tree branches or other evergreens to the wire circle until you have a nice bushy wreath. Fasten holly berries, eucalyptus berries, red pepper berries or pine cones if they are available in your locality at several points on the wreath.

(2) PLEAT the overlap at top and bottom with your fingers and fasten each fold with cellulose tape.

THERE'S A PIPE FOR EVERY MAN IF HE SMOKES

There's the right pipe for that man's Christmas stocking. So why not describe your man to Santa and get a pipe that fits the face.

Tall and thin men prefer straight pipes. Heavier, stocky men go for curved stems. Young men take to novelty designs. Elderly men like pipes with generous bowls—a leisurely smoke that lasts. Desk workers, architects, engineers, like a flat bottom pipe that will stand up when they set it down—they are used to using more matches than tobacco.

Although comparatively few pipes are smoked by women, pipe experts say women buy more pipes than men. Morris Levinson (president of Kaywoodie) estimates that 70 per cent of all pipes purchased during the big Christmas shopping season are selected by women.

Levinson's tips to women who want to please pipe smokers are:

1. Look for a pipe he doesn't have. Every pipe smoker enjoys a good change.

2. Don't select an itty-bitty pipe for a big man, or a large overpowering pipe for a streamlined guy.

3. Purchase your pipe at a reliable store. Don't fall for pipes marked down from $15 to $1. You may be buying "firewood."

Because pipe smokers usually detest any other kind of a smoke and insist on carrying a pipe even when in formal dress, Levinson's firm has designed pipes that won't bulge the pocket. Thin and flat and white and black these pipes look right with black ties or white.

Oversize bowls are considered once-in-a-while smokes. Levinson is convinced that a man can enjoy a big bowl pipe while reading, viewing the TV or watching outdoor sports. But he contends that big bowls are too bulky to carry around all day.

For this Christmas a sure fire hit is a combination pipe and alligator slippers gift. These should have special appeal to women who want to keep their husbands home by the fireside.

When sending Christmas cards, don't forget your pastor, doctor and the store keepers who've been especially nice to you throughout the year.

GAIETY AND GOOD MUSIC go hand in hand. Here's a colorful clown three-speed phonograph for the small fry. You'll find it covered in red and white striped fabric, about $30.
(Steelman Photo)

During the depression 1930s, scientists estimated that U. S. population would level off at about 154 million people, but the nation now has more than 160 million.

In the northern hemisphere about 60 per cent of the earth's surface is under water and in the southern hemisphere, about 80 per cent.

It is estimated that it takes cotton grown on 558,000 acres of land to produce upholstery, brake linings, timing gears and other things for a million cars.

Some scientists believe that emigration never has slowed down the population growth of a large country.

The axis of the earth shifts as much as 60 feet at the north pole in a 14-month cycle because the earth wobbles.

Fern Grows With No Soil In Normal Living Rooms

WOODLAND HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A fern which originates on the slopes of Mauna Loa volcano in Hawaii will grow in your living room. The fern sprouts from a root, or burl, and the discovery that it will grow at living room temperatures was made by Graham Dible, a Southern California hosticulturist. It probably will sprout another fortune for Farmer Dible, too.

The burls, before they will grow in a home, have to be conditioned. This is done on Dible's ranch in the San Fernando valley, where, in a half-mile long greenhouse, the burls are kept moist and subjected to varying temperatures.

No Soil Needed

The fern root sends out shoots which turn into buds; these, in turn, unfurl into richly filigreed, vivid green fern fronds. In their native state the ferns have no soil; they just sit on the lava, and draw their food from its minerals and their moisture from the air.

After a few weeks of conditioning the burl is ready for its new locale. It must be about 25 per cent under water and given a food like the minerals it took from the lava. Water must be added every few days to offset evaporation. A householder going away for a week, or longer, need not worry about this plant. Dible says that just pull off all the greenery and set the burl in a dry place. A week later, or longer, the plant can be put back in water where it starts growing all over again.

Bags Used

Dible markets the burl in transparent paper bags, just as he does millions of house plants every year. The idea has paid off very well, as Dible's 76 expensive acres and beautiful house (formerly that of the movie director, Michael Curtiz) prove.

Paint Brushes Fine Gift For Handyman

For the husband whose homework is in the "handyman" class, no finer Christmas present can be found than a set of good paint brushes.

Every handyman likes to use the right tools for the job to be done. And, in painting, selection of the right brush for the painting job to be done is essential to attain professional-looking results.

In selecting paint brushes to make up a Christmas set, a good guide is the recommendation of the Paint and Varnish Brush Division of the American Brush Manufacturers Association.

For basic home painting needs, a set of five brushes is ideal.

Such a set includes a sash brush, probably an inch or an inch-and-a-half wide; a two-inch varnish brush; a wider varnish or enamel brush, two-and-one-half or three inches, with a chiseled edge; and two wall brushes, three and four or four-and-a-half inches wide.

With paint brushes, as with other fine tools, quality pays off in service.

Buy Stockings For Your Favorite Pets

The Associated Press

Fido, Tabby and Bobo the parakeet charm your household all the year. So why not remember them at Christmas time? Hang a stocking for each at the fireplace and watch how your little animal family will purr, chirp and wag their appreciation for your thoughtfulness. Animals get bored with plain old routine just like people do and they need a respite from daily dullness.

There are little red net socks, bulging with everything to delight your pet, available at pet shops, super markets, drug and hardware stores. A dog gets a play-slipper, nylon brush, bones and flea powder, while the cat finds catnip and a little mouse to while away time on his paws. The parakeet will be joyous with a little ladder, jingle bells and a special dinner. The canary stocking is full of juicy morsels and playthings, too.

Although an annual death rate of 40 per 1,000 people was not unusual two centuries ago, some countries today have death rates of less than 10 per thousand.

Census taking in ancient times often was followed by conscription or high taxes and the process often was bitterly resisted.

Camera News

BY IRVING DESFOR

CAMERA CLUBS, now back in the full swing of fall and winter activities, have a chance to fatten their club treasury and their members' pocketbooks at one and the same time. This "golden" opportunity is available because the Second Annual Osborne Color Transparency Contest, open only to photographers through their camera clubs, is now on and runs to Dec. 15. To be eligible, transparencies should be suitable for calendar use and 35mm, or larger, in size.

There is still time for camera clubs to hold a Color Calendar Night with a special invitation for members to go through their whole past year's picture-taking efforts to select their best transparencies. From these, the club judges would select the top half dozen to represent the club.

Last year more than 4,000 camera club members entered the Osborne contest and the winning transparencies will shortly be seen since they are featured on 1954 calendars. Over 90 per cent submitted were the popular 35mm slides.

Three Categories

This year's winners will be judged in three separate categories: science subjects, human interest shots and a special group of specific interest in industries and public service themes.

First prize in each of these categories will be $300 for the winning transparency and $50 for the participating camera club. Second prize will be $200 with $50 for the camera club. The next seven best, in each category, will receive $25 each.

A grand prize winner will then be chosen with additional cash totalling $500 for the winning club member and $75 for the sponsoring club. Now what club or club member can afford to ignore a tempting target like that?

TO GUIDE the camera clubs in their entry selections, a few suggestions are offered by Fred Seeley, vice president of the Osborne Company of Clifton, N. J., originators of the commercial art calendars, 66 years ago.

"The number one general rule is that a good calendar picture is a happy picture." Mr. Seeley stressed.

Among the most popular subjects are landscapes anywhere in the United States, without human figures — or with the human figures subordinated; or human interest scenes featuring babies, children, and children with animals. Action shots of all sports are also popular, animals and birds; gardens; farms and homes with scenic value. Seascapes and harbor scenes, hunting and fishing shots and unusual aerial photography are acceptable. Pretty girl pictures are eligible also but besides being appealing, the young lady must be engaged in some interesting and credible activity.

"THE SPECIALIZED picture category was initiated this year," Mr. Seeley added, "to meet the calendar needs of specific industries like lumberyards, grocery stores, dairies, farm equipment makers, automobile repair and gasoline stations, and so forth. It also includes pictures to illustrate special public service themes such as safety and the back-to-church movement."

WAFFLE IRONS WERE NOT MADE TO BE ON SHELF

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

WAFFLE IRONS were not made to leave standing on a shelf! Every time we go into a kitchen and find a waffle iron or some other electric appliance beyond reach in a high cupboard, we feel like starting a crusade. Our goal would be to inspire, encourage or browbeat women into keeping such sensational meal-getting aids right where they may be seen and used.

Sunday Breakfast

So if you are one of the ladies who has her waffle iron hidden away, here's persuasion. Waffles are such versatile morsels of golden-brown goodness. Bracing for breakfast. Lovely for lunch. Delectable for dinner. Use a mix for their batter; or start from scratch. Then go to town in the way you serve them. Just to start you off, here's what you can do by teaming waffles with that unusually fine product — canned cranberry sauce.

Let's start with breakfast. It's Sunday morning? Rashers of crisp bacon, slices of ham or rich sausage links browned in a skillet — nothing, to our mind, tastes quite as good for breakfast with waffles. Accompany this combination with glistening Cranberry Orange Topping — prepared in a minute, heated slowly so flavors blend lovingly. Bring on the strong hot coffee — and taste, taste, taste!

But now it's lunchtime. The girls coming for bridge? The family usually home on Saturday? Then start this noon meal with a chowder and pilot crackers; go on to salad; end with gingerbread waffles. On these molasses-and-spice tempters spoon a taste trio of cranberry sauce, applesauce and raisins enlivened with a dash of cinnamon and slivered toasted almonds. Enrapture your audience still more, if you like, by adding a drift of whipped cream.

And so to dinner. Make the menu that All-American favorite — fried chicken, green peas and waffles. This time top the waffles with Hot Cranberry Butter. Good? Simply scrumptious!

SPACE MAN...He's all set for inter-stellar age with new space gun and mask with one-way peer-out vision.

SPICE SHELF PLEASES MOM

If the lady of the house wants spice in her life, she won't have to search the kitchen for the salt and pepper and other condiments after she finds this Christmas gift under the tree.

This kitchen shelf is made like a small cupboard and is easily located above the kitchen range.

The workshop enthusiast will have no trouble turning out this project in a single evening. The plan has been drawn with that time limit in mind by the Delta power tool division of Rockwell Manufacturing Co.

Here are some of the pertinent points:

The back of the "cupboard" is a piece of quarter-inch fir or gum plywood, 10¼ by 10¾ inches. The top is quarter-inch plywood, 10¼ inches wide at the widest point. For the middle shelf, use quarter-inch fir or gum plywood, 10¼ inches wide and 4½ inches deep.

The bottom and the doors are ⅜ inch, solid stock. The doors are 4½ inches high and 5 1/16 inches wide. For the proper door fit, rabbet a strip ¼ inch by ⅜ inch.

Gloss white gives the shelf a kitchen sparkle and serves as a good background for colorful decals which can be purchased at a dime store. Paint all edges red or blue to add to the gay effect and to accent the gloss white.

In 1952 more than four million dairy cows were bred artificially in the United States.

HAPPINESS comes by the bagful when you give this imported Italian calfskin bag with swagger double handle and top zipper. Saddle stitching outlines the frame and handle. (Josef Design)

Lighted Xmas Stars Available

Illuminated Christmas stars are available in various sizes in the stores. If you don't find the type or size you want, you can fashion your own with little trouble.

A small five-pointed star can be cut from plywood or hardboard, painted white or aluminum for reflectivity, with a hole cut in the center to accommodate a socket for a 5-11 or C-9½ bulb.

A larger star can be cut from the same material, say ¼-inch hardboard pressed wood, which will not warp, painted to suit and fitted with socket holes near each point as well as in the center.

Any size of a giant star can be made from five equal length strips of lumber with sockets inserted at suitable spaces. Size of material, varying from ¼-inch plywood or masonite to 1 by 2 lumber, depends on the size of the star.

Keep a pastry brush withir easy reach in your kitchen, and use it to grease pans, to spread melted shorting over yeast doughs while they are rising, and for glazing pie crust.

Versatile Power Tool Saves Holiday Budget

It takes a lot of Christmases for the average woodworking hobbyist to get all the power tools he'd like to have for his home workshop. But nowadays shortcuts have been devised in the form of combination power tools to perform various jobs and also spare the Santa Claus budget from too much strain.

One of the newest of these combinations, called a Shopmate, is powered by a portable electric drill and still does the work of eight separate power tools. It is small enough to fit on one corner of a modest sized workbench, still it can be used as a bench saw, lathe, grinder, router, sander-polisher, vertical drill press, horizontal drill press and portable drill.

John Baker of Portable Electric Tools, Inc., Chicago, estimates that if the handyman purchased separate tools to do all that work, he would need from 100 to 300 square feet of work space and would spend $200 to $1,000 or more.

About 29 per cent of all motor trucks and 12 per cent of all passenger cars in the United States are used by farmers.

THIS ATTRACTIVE CANDLE will light up your Christmas window or brighten your sideboard, table or mantle. The patio light is blue glass with a large candle within. Silver stars in three sizes are pasted to the glass. A small plate is covered with aluminum foil and the candle placed on it. Tinsel in short lengths radiate star-like over the plate and little silver and blue Christmas balls are the final fillip. (Will-Baumer Patiolite)

CANNOT FIND ROOM FOR MANY FINE TREASURES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Something's got to give in the Duncan Emrich apartment. The collection of objects from all parts of the world is beginning to crowd a bit.

Just back from nine months in Italy where Dr. Emrich, chief of the Library of Congress' Folklore Section, was on a Fulbright lectureships, the Emrichs are having real trouble finding a place to put the many treasures they brought home.

Dr. Emrich has traveled all over Europe and hitch-hiked across the U. S. four times. His wife, Marion, who also works for the Library, has accompanied him on many of his recent trips, through the West, New England and Mexico. Together they've collected innumerable items of painting, sculpture, needlework, folk music and literature, native cooking utensils and pottery. Their latest additions, including several very large carved wooden figures, brass candelabra and vases, are piled on tables, chairs and beds and hung on whatever wall space is available.

The Emrichs think they'll give some of the things to museums and to friends, but most of the objects they intend to use.

Spend 4 Months In Rome

Accompanied by their daughter, Genie, 18, they spent four months in Rome and some time in Naples and Florence, but they enjoyed most of all their sojourn in Sicily. For $80 a month they rented a very nice little villa at beautiful Taormina overlooking the Mediterranean Sea and a lovely terraced garden. For $25 they had a full-time maid and cook. Their butcher never made out a bill, just told Marion to keep her own account of items purchased.

"Contrary to all you hear at home about Sicilians, they are gentle, friendly people," Mrs. Emrich said. "I'm sure the only bad Sicilians are in American gangster stories."

Dr. Emrich lectured on American folk lore at the Universities of Rome, Naples and Palermo and at the library at Messina.

"The Italians are interested in what happened to folklore in America with the coming of the industrial revolution, when individuals stopped making things themselves," he said. "They are familiar chiefly with the American cowboy and western tradition through our films."

String Colored Bulbs Outside House

If you hang strings of colored lights in the same places every Christmas — along the eaves or up the gable edges — permanent screw eyes or hooks are a convenience. Ask your hardware dealer for brass hooks or screw eyes so they won't rust and discolor paint.

An important point: Tape the wiring to the hook with electricians' tape to prevent movement from wearing out the insulation on the wire. Also space the hooks as closely as possible to prevent the festoon from striking the wall in a wind and breaking the bulbs.

For the most effective appearance, distance between lamps is decreased toward the focal point and lamps of contrasting color are used at each point where the festoon changes direction.

MAMIE ENJOYS NEW GAME OF "BOLIVIA"

WASHINGTON (AP) — While the President finds his relaxation in golfing or a game of bridge, Mamie Eisenhower finds hers in "Bolivia" the most recent version of the game of canasta, which is sweeping the capital.

The First Lady was a canasta fan when it was first introduced to the U. S. from South America. She doesn't care for bridge or golf.

Mrs. James Hagerty, wife of the President's press secretary, on the other hand, probably spends more time on the golf course than her husband. Some three years ago she made up her mind she wouldn't be a "golf widow" and bought herself a complete set of clubs.

"I spent the first year on the practice tee," Mrs. Hagerty told newswomen. "I spent the second year spraining the ligaments in my side. I'm no expert, but I'm enjoying myself."

Women are barred from the Burning Tree Club, where the President and other government big wigs play, so Mrs. Hagerty tees off at the cosier Columbia course almost every morning.

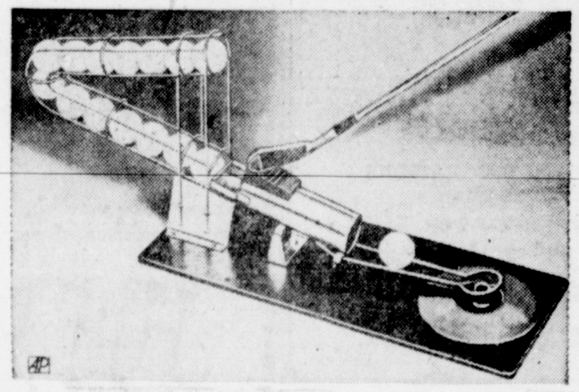
Also Play Scrabble

In addition to bridge, Bolivia, samba, canasta and other card games, Washingtonians are engrossed in "Scrabble" a new word game. Mrs. Fred M. Vinson, wife of the late Chief Justice, says it keeps her family happily occupied for hours several nights a week.

Handsome Ambassador Heurtemate of Panama has a formula for keeping sober and still being a gracious host and guest at the capital's gruelling cocktail parties.

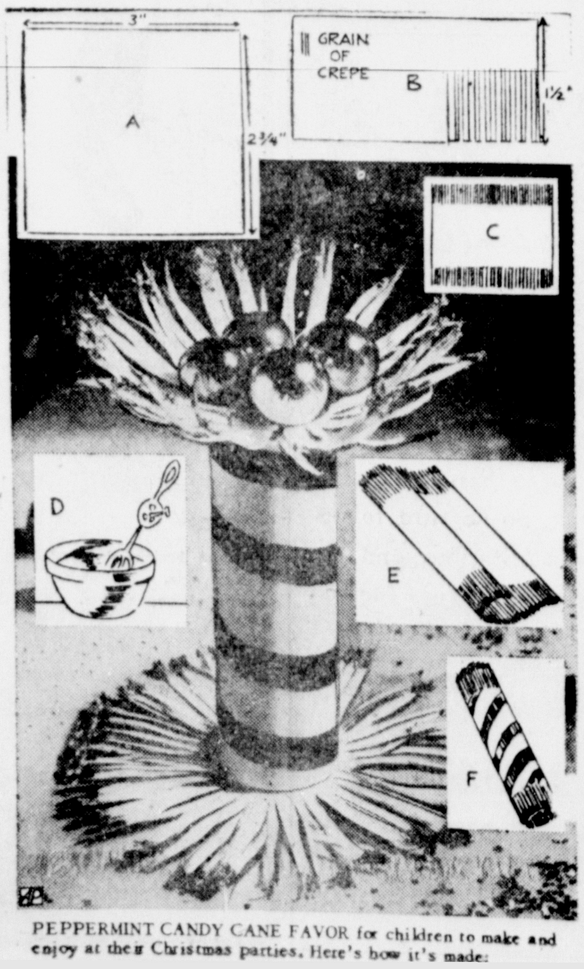
"First I aways take one drink and hold it in my hand so everyone will think I'm a good fellow," he told me while picking up a gin and tonic at a recent embassy party. "Second and most important step is NOT to drink the drink. That way you're always safe."

DIAMOND DUDS in red hot colors will warm up the Christmas scene. This bright yellow and jet two-piece flannel set is fine to wear while lounging around the fireplace or for entertaining casual friends. The yellow fingertip length box jacket has cuffs accented by bold yellow and jet diamond checks, white buttons, three-quarter length sleeves. (Harry Berger-Tommie Design)



GOLF IN THE LIVING ROOM can be played on Christmas day with this Lazy Golfer setup which tees up 15 balls (plastic for indoors – real for outdoors). After each drive, a touch of the club head on the trigger releases the next ball without any stooping or fussing on the duffer's part. (Spalding Photo)

SANTA SAYS IT with comfort for that man in your life. This handsome lounging chair reclines automatically, without levers or buttons. In plastic or top grain leather. (Barcalounger)



PEPPERMINT CANDY CANE FAVOR for children to make and enjoy at their Christmas parties. Here's how it's made:

Dear Santa: Can You Make Me Slim

The Associated Press

Exercise before the holidays and you'll have plenty of room for those Christmas goodies. Plum pudding and turkey dressing are not bait for dieters as any good scale will admit.

"Ah, but wait until after my Yuletide binge" promises the susceptible fatty, helping herself to an extra portion of mince pie. But tomorrow never comes for dieters. You must diet today or tomorrow you've gained another ounce.

Exercise is one way to lose weight, says pretty Dolores Dorn, Hollywood starlet. She advises a daily routine of reducing exercises that will have you weighing in with enthusiasm as you watch those pounds melt away. Then, who knows, when Christmas rolls around, perhaps you'll be as sylph-like as a snowflake.

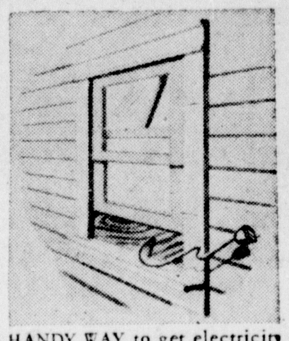
Rode Fertilizer Car Right Into Lockup

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — Two men from Jersey City, N. J., developed a strong suspicion they picked the wrong car right after they boarded it. It was loaded with fertilizer.

When the pair came into the station at Hagerstown, railroad workers smelled a problem and the cops were called.

There was an understandably speedy hearing in magistrate's court for the two, booked as Jesse Sickel, 47, and Michael Power, 61, then they were hustled off to the showers. They got five days for trespassing on railroad property.

Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone also invented a boat with hydrofoils which broke the world speed record in 1919.



HANDY WAY to get electricity for your outdoor Christmas lighting decorations. Hole in board in window lets wire through.
